

The Middletown Transcript

VOLUME 55, NO. 11

MIDDLETOWN, DELAWARE, SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 1922

PRICE THREE CENTS

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Agencies Working For Better Progress in Delaware

A PHENOMENAL RECORD

All agencies working for educational progress in Delaware are interested in better school attendance.

During the last four years, the state has made phenomenal growth in school attendance. During the school year of 1917-1918, the school boys and girls attended on an average of only 90 days; the year of 1918-1919, 92 days; the year 1919-1920, 109 days; the year 1920-1921, 134 days. Within four years time, 44 days (or two school months) were added to the time attended school by boys and girls. What will this year's record be?

If children are not in school, can the teachers teach them? The home, in many cases, has abdicated in favor of the schools; but, if the children fail to attend school regularly, they cannot expect to progress in their school work. How can a pupil who attends school 100 or even 120 days compete with a pupil who attends school 160 to 180 days?

For the sake of the children and for the sake of the future of the State, parents, guardians, and friends of education, are asked to help to secure the best school attendance possible.

The School Attendance Law requires that all children between the ages of seven and fourteen shall attend school, each day of the minimum school year of one hundred and sixty days.

Children between the ages of fourteen and sixteen who have not completed the work of the eighth grade, should attend school not less than one hundred (100) days, as nearly consecutive as possible, beginning not later than November first, unless it can be shown and witnessed by written endorsement that each child is elsewhere receiving regular and thorough instruction during the said minimum school year in the subjects prescribed for the elementary school of the State of Delaware.

Why we urge that visiting be arranged for week-ends when the children will not have to lose time from business, for you understand, of course, that going to school is the child's business just the same as going to work is your business.

We are asking for your cooperation in this matter for the sake of your child. May we not count on help from all, even to the extent of some sacrifice?

The following reasons are regarded as sufficient to excuse absence:

1. The illness of the child who is absent.
2. The quarantine of the home of the child.
3. A death in the family.
4. A storm so severe that the child cannot get to school.
5. A certificate from a regular physician to the effect that the child is physically or mentally unable to attend.
6. Working at agricultural pursuits for children under 14 years, provided they enter by October 1st, and attend at least 120 days.

If a child is out of school for any of the above reasons, the parent or guardian should notify the teacher immediately.

If the child is out of school for other reasons than those mentioned, parents or guardian should arrange to have the child returned to school at once.

STANDARD BEARERS MEETING

The March meeting of the Standard Bearers of Bethel M. E. Church, held at the home of Misses Helen and Mabel Fournace, on South Broad street, Monday evening.

The meeting was called to order by the president, and was opened by singing, followed by the reading of the prayer, read by Miss Mabel Fournace. After the business meeting, during which two new members were added to the roll, the following delightful program was given with Mr. Lewis Stewart as chairman:

Singing: "The Rally Song," play, "The Answer," by a class; solo, "The Sweet Story of Old," Mary Hynson; play, "The Teacher Sent Out by the Foreign Missionary Society," by a class; trio, Winfield Betts, Lewis Stewart and Ralph Hynson; reading, "Where the Thank Offering Will be Used," Evelyn Elliott; reading of Missionary letter, Kitty Carpenter; piano solo, Lewis Stewart; local song, "Mary's Song," by a class; a pleasant social hour during which refreshments were served, the meeting adjourned.

Those present were: Cassie and Margaret Denny, Elizabeth Hufnagel, Mary Hynson, Catherine Carpenter, Bertha Chance, Gladys May, Margaret Tyler, Elsie Reed, Elizabeth Swain, Elvina Montrose de Oca, Margaret and Desma Fitzgerald, Ralph Hynson, Lewis Stewart, Winfield Betts, Ward Carpenter, Miss Isabel Price, Mrs. Watson Betts, Mrs. Elwood Denny, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hynson, Grace Hopkins, Madeleine Smith, John Swain, Lena Leager, Evelyn Elliott, Frances Fisher, Evelyn Brown, Mildred and Minnie Sweetman, and Mabel and Helen Fournace.

See "The Invisible Power," at the Opera House next Thursday evening. The pupils of the M. H. S. will also have a Declamation Contest, in conjunction with this picture. Regular admission.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John T. Wolfe

Mrs. Bessie Wolfe, wife of John T. Wolfe, of Chesapeake City, Md., died Monday evening after a brief illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Wolfe is survived by her husband and five little children; also by her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Rhodes, two brothers and one sister.

Polly Prim and other models in bungalow aprons, made of pretty gingham; Billy Burke and conservative models in Housedresses. Beautiful gingham dresses suitable for afternoon wear, all at low prices.

M. R. & K. A. DROLL.

FOREST CHURCH NOTES

PRESBYTERIAN

Sunday, March 19th, 1922.

10.30 A. M. Morning service. Sermon by the pastor.

11.45 A. M. Sunday School.

7.30 P. M. Evening service. Sermon by the pastor.

Mid-week service, Wednesday, 7.30 P. M.

Boy Scout meeting every Friday at 7.00 P. M.

The thermometer indicates the rise or fall of temperature. A certain point on the thermometer is marked zero. We reckon temperature as so many degrees above or below this point. The mercury in the tube responds quickly to the action of heat or cold. It rises and falls according to location and circumstances. The clinical thermometer is used to determine the temperature of the body. A normal temperature indicates health and fitness.

Science has been trying to invent a mechanism which will register human emotions and attitudes. The pastors would gladly avail themselves of such a mechanism, if it were on the market, in order that they might test the reaction of their people to spiritual things. In the meantime we are left to determine the health of the soul by a study of the outward actions of the individual. These actions we measure by a God-given standard which is designated—the Christian life. If we study the life, its attitude and response for sufficient length of time, we can arrive at fairly accurate conclusions regarding a person's spiritual state. The minister would like to ask you: How much time do you devote to prayer? How much time to Bible reading? How much time to worship? What percentage of your thinking is about heavenly things? How much of your talent and income do you devote to God's work? Are you treating your soul to death or to life? Can you be shown and witnessed by written endorsement that each child is elsewhere receiving regular and thorough instruction during the said minimum school year in the subjects prescribed for the elementary school of the State of Delaware?

Why we urge that visiting be arranged for week-ends when the children will not have to lose time from business, for you understand, of course, that going to school is the child's business just the same as going to work is your business.

We are asking for your cooperation in this matter for the sake of your child. May we not count on help from all, even to the extent of some sacrifice?

The following reasons are regarded as sufficient to excuse absence:

1. The illness of the child who is absent.
2. The quarantine of the home of the child.
3. A death in the family.
4. A storm so severe that the child cannot get to school.
5. A certificate from a regular physician to the effect that the child is physically or mentally unable to attend.
6. Working at agricultural pursuits for children under 14 years, provided they enter by October 1st, and attend at least 120 days.

If a child is out of school for any of the above reasons, the parent or guardian should notify the teacher immediately.

If the child is out of school for other reasons than those mentioned, parents or guardian should arrange to have the child returned to school at once.

The following reasons are regarded as sufficient to excuse absence:

1. The illness of the child who is absent.
2. The quarantine of the home of the child.
3. A death in the family.
4. A storm so severe that the child cannot get to school.
5. A certificate from a regular physician to the effect that the child is physically or mentally unable to attend.
6. Working at agricultural pursuits for children under 14 years, provided they enter by October 1st, and attend at least 120 days.

If a child is out of school for any of the above reasons, the parent or guardian should notify the teacher immediately.

If the child is out of school for other reasons than those mentioned, parents or guardian should arrange to have the child returned to school at once.

If a child is out of school for any of the above reasons, the parent or guardian should notify the teacher immediately.

If the child is out of school for other reasons than those mentioned, parents or guardian should arrange to have the child returned to school at once.

ST. ANNE'S CHURCH NOTES

EPISCOPAL

Sunday, March 19th, 1922. 3d Sunday in Lent.

10.30. Morning prayer and sermon 11.45. Sunday School.

7.30. Evening prayer and address.

Service Wednesday evening, March 22d, evening prayer and sermon, by the Rev. Philip Cook, D. D., Bishop of Delaware.

Friday, Holy Communion at 10.30 A. M. Meeting of the Woman's auxiliary at the Rectory at 8.30 P. M.

Notice this change in date of the one-week service, service will be held on Tuesday evening, March 28th, at 7.30 and will have with us the Rev. G. W. Davenport, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Eastern. No service on Wednesday evening, March 29th.

Autumn, the Lenten season is not always appropriate in the Lenten Season, and the alternate canticle is the Benedictio, omnia opera Domini.

The Lenten Season is advancing on its way, and would it not be well for us as a Parish to review the situation? Can we not spend the rest of Lent more profitably? There is always room for improvement as suggested by the closing words of the Gospel, "Gather up the fragments that remain." The service on Wednesday the 29th, as stated on the Lenten Schedule. Please note the change of date. There will be no service on Wednesday evening.

See Douglas MacLean in "Passing thru" at the movies Tuesday evening.

Odessa Church Notes

DRAWERS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

2.00 P. M. Sunday School.

7.00 P. M. Sunday Evening.

11.00 P. M. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. William Little, D. D.

7.30 P. M. Friday evening service.

ST. PAUL'S M. E. CHURCH

10.00 A. M. Sunday School.

11.00 A. M. Service with sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Robert Hodgson.

7.00 P. M. Epworth League meeting.

7.30 P. M. Usual evening service.

Wedn. sat. evening the Boys' Club will give an illustrated lecture.

7.30 P. M. Friday evening service.

In Memoriam

In sad and loving remembrance of John W. Garey, Jr., who died March 19th, 1918.

Softly to night the stars are gleaming Upon a silent grave, Where there sleepeth without dreaming One we loved but could not save.

Do not ask us if we miss him, There we think we hear his footsteps, Always see his smiling face, Dearly loved and sadly missed by

MOTHER, FATHER, SISTERS, BROTHER AND TOWNSEND FRIENDS.

Isaac Empson Dead

Isaac Empson, one of the oldest and most highly respected colored men of this section, died at his home here Monday morning, aged 86 years. He had spent his long life in the section and was well and favorably known by both the white and colored people of the community.

Funeral services were held at his home Thursday afternoon, at one o'clock and interment was made in Dale's cemetery.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Many Condensed News Items of the Past Week

IN THIS AND NEARBY POINTS

April 7 has been designated by Governor Denney as Arbor and bird day.

The continued warm weather is drawing many anglers to the banks of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal.

Rev. E. W. Caswell will preach at St. Paul's M. E. Church, at Odessa, on Sunday, March 26th, at 11 A. M.

An Altar Guild has been organized by the ladies of St. Stephen's Church, Cecilton. Mrs. Lusby is president.

The Women's College was opened Monday after having been closed for ten days as the result of one of the students developing scarlet fever.

The Red Men, of Cecilton, Md., gave their annual banquet in the Community House on Monday night. A large crowd was present and everyone seemed to have an unusually good time.

Washington Camp, No. 12, P. O. S. A., of the Post of the United States, at Camp No. 9, of this town, Monday evening at the lodge rooms. LeRoy O'Neill was initiated into the lodge.

Twenty riders of the St. Georges section, enjoyed a hunt of a fox, bagged at Lorewood Grove and loosed near St. Georges. The dogs were called off, near the Maryland line, in the evening.

Plans for the proposed new Odd Fellows' Hall at Delaware City have been submitted and the contract will be put out in the early part of April. It is said the building will cost about $25,000.

William C. Brooks, of Penderhew hundred, former representative in the General Assembly will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for coroner in New Castle County, according to his friends.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will be held at the home of the president, Miss Horace May, Monday evening, March 20th. All members are urged to be present.

The girls basketball team representing Middletown High School lost to New Castle High in a closely contested game Wednesday, March 8th, played by boys rules. Refereed by home talent. Score being 4 to 5.

While cranking an automobile in Odessa on Monday, Mr. Herman Johnson, of Delaware City, had his wrist broken. Mr. Johnson was taken to Delaware Hospital, Tuesday, where the broken member was set.

From present indications a new high school building is assured Delaware City before the opening of next year's session. Influential taxpayers are advocating the project and children are writing essays on the subject.

Mrs. Nellie B. Reed, postmistress at Chesapeake City, has just received several letters, being recently succeeded by John M. Reed, has entered the mercantile business, having bought the store of Mrs. Margaret McKenney, in that town.

A meeting of the Middletown Athletic Association, will be held in the office of D. W. Stevens, past several years, being recently succeeded by John M. Reed, has entered the mercantile business, having bought the store of Mrs. Margaret McKenney, in that town.

The work on the new section of the boulevard is to begin as soon as the contract is let, and this will be announced in a few days. The unfinished section starts from a point two miles south of Blackbird and will make a connecting link between there and the new boulevard at Back Creek.

William A. Watson, Jr., of Blackbird, has opened a grocery store on the west side of the town, near the new boulevard. Mr. Watson is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watson, for many years residents of Blackbird.

The Rev. George P. Jones will leave to attend the M. E. Conference at Cambridge, Md., on Wednesday morning. During his pastorate here he has filled the pulpit in a highly acceptable manner, and won many friends by his genial companionship and his public and private life and the call for his return for another conference year to the local church, is a unanimous one from the members of his flock.

John T. Manning and wife, who were recently married at Middletown, were tendered a variety shower at the home of the bride's parents, near Blackbird, last Thursday evening, a large number of friends having called to spend the evening in honor of the occasion. Mr. Manning and bride were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and on their arrival found a sumptuous dinner and a number of their relatives awaiting them. The dining-room was tastefully decorated with sweet peas and smilax.

Mrs. Shallcross received 70 gifts—the number representing the years of her long and useful life.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was a toast written and given by her daughter Mrs. Bassett Ferguson of Ridley Park, Pa.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Vandegrift, of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Bassett Ferguson, and sons Masters Eugene and Eugene, of Ridley Park; Mr. and Mrs. T. Clarence Marshall, of Yorklyn; Mr. and Mrs. James T. Shallcross and daughters Esther, Margaret, Mary Conley and Meta, of near town; Miss Helen V. Shallcross, and Messrs. Eugene and Edwin Shallcross, of Middletown.

HER SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY

In honor of her seventieth birthday, Mrs. James T. Shallcross, Sr., was tendered a very delightful surprise birthday dinner, at her home on North Broad street, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Shallcross had been spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. T. Clarence Marshall, at Yorklyn, and the dinner was planned by Miss Helen V. Shallcross, her daughter who resides at home. She returned that evening accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and on their arrival found a sumptuous dinner and a number of their relatives awaiting them. The dining-room was tastefully decorated with sweet peas and smilax.

Mrs. Shallcross received 70 gifts—the number representing the years of her long and useful life.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was a toast written and given by her daughter Mrs. Bassett Ferguson of Ridley Park, Pa.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Vandegrift, of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Bassett Ferguson, and sons Masters Eugene and Eugene, of Ridley Park; Mr. and Mrs. T. Clarence Marshall, of Yorklyn; Mr. and Mrs. James T. Shallcross and daughters Esther, Margaret, Mary Conley and Meta, of near town; Miss Helen V. Shallcross, and Messrs. Eugene and Edwin Shallcross, of Middletown.

Real Estate Sale

Real Estate Broker, James T. Shallcross, has sold the George Hard farm, situated on the Vance's Neck road, near McDouglass, containing about 191 acres to Mr. John Reed, of North East, Md. Mr. Reed will take possession of the new farm and move his family thereto on March 25th.

Thomas Meighan in "The Conquest of Canaan," at the movies next Wednesday evening.

TOWNSEND

Robert H. Morgan and wife spent Monday in Wilmington.

Edward Hart has returned from a business trip to Wilmington.

Charles Lamb, of Port Penn, was a visitor in town on Wednesday.

Boyce Salmon, of Wilmington, spent Sunday with L. L. Maloney and wife.

Harry J. Lee, of near Townsend, who has been very ill, is now convalescing.

George E. King, of New Castle, made a business call in town Tuesday.

George F. Hanson, of Philadelphia, was a visitor in town on Monday and Tuesday.

Irving Hart and wife, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with J. A. Hart and wife.

Rodney Price and wife, of Wilmington, spent Sunday at the home of W. H. Reynolds and wife.

Miss Elsie Powell and Earl Roth, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with W. P. Wilson and wife.

Mrs. James Boyd has returned home from a two month's stay with relatives and friends in Wilmington.

John W. Garey and wife, of Atlantic City, N. J., are spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Maloney.

Mrs. George K. Crossland, of Wilmington, spent Sunday with her parents, William M. Taylor and wife.

Mrs. Elizabeth D. Gill, of Philadelphia, was a brief visitor in town on Friday, the guest of Benjamin Wells and family.

Miss Edna Reynolds and Elizabeth Maloney are spending the week-end with the Rev. J. H. Beauchamp and family, in Wilmington.

Mrs. Clara Knotts returned home on Saturday from a five months' visit to her son, G. Lloyd Knotts and family, at Washburn, Wisconsin.

Some of the streets in town are soon to be repaired, in fact, one thoroughfare, Taylor street, has been considerably improved by men with teams since Saturday.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

Clarence A. Greenwood who became ill on Thursday and was threatened with appendicitis, is now much improved, and his friends are hoping for a speedy, permanent recovery.

Mrs. Sarah Barlow, of near Blackbird, announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma J. Barlow, to Edward Sharp, of near Leipzig. The wedding took place on Monday.

FRIENDS & VISITORS

Personal Items About People You See and Know

THOSE THAT COME AND GO

Miss Odell Gallagher was a Wilmington visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bragdon were in Wilmington Monday.

Mrs. Virginia Massey, of Wilmington, is visiting Mrs. E. S. Massey.

Miss Elva Freeman, of Wilmington, spent Sunday at her home here.

Mrs. Julian G. Cleaver spent last week with friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. C. A. Hoffacker spent part of this week with relatives in Wilmington.

Miss Edith M. Eliason, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mrs. L. E. Ennis.

Mrs. Sarah Kumpel has returned home from a visit with friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. J. E. Ginn visited Mr. and Mrs. Delbert B. Gallagher in Wilmington this week.

Mrs. W. S. P. Combs had for a guest this week Mrs. Herbert Dumstre, of Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. P. Combs and sons spent the week-end with relatives in Ellendale.

Mr. Charles Kelley, of Wilmington, visited his aunt Miss Bessie Anderson, over Sunday.

Miss Anna Coffin, of near Baltimore, Md., has been visiting her father Mr. Edward Coffin.

Miss Lena C. Weber visited her sister Mrs. Curtis F. Millman at Woodside this week.

Mr. Horatio N. Willis, of Philadelphia, visited his sister Miss Laura Willis this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Richards, of Philadelphia, were week-end guests of their parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reed, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Norman Gill, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Voshell.

Mrs. A. Fogel attended a luncheon given by the Jewish Council at the Hotel duPont Thursday.

Mrs. Harry Dempsey, of Wilmington, spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Echenhofer.

Mr. William C. Gallagher, of Chester, Pa., spent Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gallagher.

Miss Rose Chertok, of Coatesville, Pa., is being entertained by Miss Laura Fogel over the week-end.

Mrs. W. E. Rothwell, of New Castle, spent last week with her sisters Misses Mary and Nellie Rothwell.

Miss Caroline Fournace, was the guest of Miss Claude E. Allen in Wilmington over the week-end.

Mrs. Martin Kilpatrick, of Morton, Pa., has been visiting her sister Mrs. J. F. McWhorter this week.

Mrs. J. E. Lewis spent Sunday and Monday with her mother Mrs. R. W. Matthews, at Parkside, Va.

Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Lewis will return home on the 23d inst., after a most delightful winter spent in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Kumpel, of Port Penn, spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Corbit Vinyard.

Miss Elizabeth Houston spent the week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Houston at Georgetown.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Gibbs, of near Massey, Md., spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Redgrave.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Comegys and children, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Comegys.

Mrs. Harry M. Black and daughter Miss Harriet, spent part of this week with Mr. and Mrs. David Schellender, in Wilmington.

Mrs. James P. Rothwell, of Philadelphia, has returned home after a visit with her sisters Misses Beaton on Cass street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Betts had for guests on Monday and Tuesday Mrs. I. W. Betts and Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Derickson, of Frederica.

Colonel James C. Wicks, editor of the Delaware State News was in Middletown on Monday and made The Transcript office a brief call.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Money who have been in Kentucky for several months are now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Money.

The Rev. Chaplain Walter Marvinne, retired Chaplain of the U. S. Army, was a recent guest of Rev. and Mrs. P. L. Donaghy, at St. Anne's Rectory.

The numerous friends of Mrs. Julia Holten who has been seriously ill for the past few weeks will be pleased to learn that she is very much improved at this writing.

The Rev. A. E. Clattenburg, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Hazleton, Pa., officiated in St. Anne's Church on Wednesday evening, and was entertained at St. Anne's Church Rectory.

Miss Sarah Crossland, of Wilmington, Mrs. Gove Voshell, of near St. Georges, and Mr. Elmer Bender, of Port Penn, were recent guests of Mrs. John B. Bender and Miss Effie Bender.

Miss Addie Duggan, who was operated on at the Delaware Hospital for appendicitis three weeks ago, has returned home and her numerous friends will be pleased to learn that she is improving rapidly.

High School Bake March 25th

Saturday is always baking day—and does it grow monotonous? Here's a chance to take a Spring vacation. On March 25th, the pupils and teachers of the Middletown High School will have a bake in the High School building, the proceeds of which will be used for individual needs of all the class rooms. Come and buy your cakes and pies and give yourself a rest. And then on Saturday, April 29th, the pupils of the Grammar Grades, with the aid of their teachers, will have a bake for the benefit of the same fund. Show your loyalty to your school. Mark these dates on your calendar, and don't forget.

All the latest shades and styles in Sport hats, reasonably priced at M. R. & K. A. DROLL'S

GOOD INVESTMENT BANKERS

Last Wednesday evening four highly interesting addresses were made in the New Century Club Hall, by some of the officers of The R. L. Dollings Companies explanatory of the character and workings of those organizations.

The speakers were: Messrs. Geo. D. Porter, Vice President of the Philadelphia Branch, H. C. Belt, Field Director, David Craig, District Manager and B. W. Brown, General Sales Manager. The story these speakers told of this new departure in business methods, now well known as "The R. L. Dollings Companies," was at once surprising and unique.

In brief, here it is: In 1909 a broker in Hamilton, Ohio, named L. L. Dollings conceived the brilliant business idea that manufacturing corporations might be established, financed, and conducted in so absolutely safe and efficient a manner that their shares would unfailingly return good dividends, even under panic conditions when nearly all other business corporations either temporarily suspend dividend payments or fail altogether.

It was a Big Idea, one seemingly impossible, and certainly at variance with the whole history of business as illustrated for centuries in ancient and modern times. But it has worked, and from the modest beginning of a single small enterprise founded over 22 years ago, the state of Ohio, it has spread through six Western states, and developed into the mammoth proportions of 33 corporations each averaging 105 units or different plants, with a total capitalization of $100,000,000 doing a business of $100,000,000, and having a future almost boundless in gigantic achievement, thanks to this Great Idea.

APOLOGIZES FOR LEGATION OUTRAGE

Building of American Minister in Sofia Damaged By Bomb

LIKE ONE OF RECENT SERIES

Bulgar Government Promises To Make Every Effort To Find And Punish The Guilty—Meagre
Details Here.

Sofia, Bulgaria.—The police are searching for the person or persons who bombed the United States Legation on Saturday night. The building was only slightly damaged and American Minister Wilson was absent at the time.

The Bulgarian Government has apologized to the American diplomat and promised that every effort will be made to find and punish the guilty person or persons.

Washington Has Meagre Details.
Washington.—Governmental agencies started investigating an explosion which partly wrecked the American Sofia Legation, proceeding on the theory it may be one of the recent series of "Red" outbreaks against United States diplomatic buildings.

So far the State and Justice Departments had only meagre details from American Minister Wilson on which to act. Wilson reported that while the legation was vacant Saturday night a bomb exploded, causing some damage, but no personal injuries. The Bulgarian police are working on the case, but have furnished no clues up to the present.

The case appears suspiciously like another "Red" act, one of the various attempts against American buildings abroad, which started with the sending of a bomb to American Ambassador Herriek at Paris. At that time governmental authorities established that a ring of international "Reds," in the hope of influencing the decision in the Sacco-Vanzetti murder case at Boston, had planned to use terror the world over.

COAL STRIKE LOOMS UP.

Hope Virtually Abandoned By Union Leaders.

Indianapolis.—Hope of averting a nation-wide coal strike April 1 was virtually abandoned Monday by officers of the United Mine Workers' of America.

Mine owners, who have twice refused to enter wage negotiations, were silent on the Government's efforts to effect a conference between miners and operators.

Union officers saw little chance for a meeting before the existing agreement with the operators, March 31. Without an agreement to become effective April 1, the miners will drop their picks. President John L. Lewis said:

By the end of this week the final result from the miners' strike vote will be made public. It is expected to be in a ratio of 9 to 1 favoring a suspension unless the mine owners agree to open negotiations on the miners' demands for a six-hour day, five-day week and continuation of the present basic wage.

DEFENDS SILK STOCKINGS.

Pastor Sees No Reason Why Working Girls Shouldn't Wear Them.

Kansas City, Mo.—Kansas working girls, accused of having crepe de chine souls when they rebelled and rioted against 25-cent stockings, had a defender from the pulpit in the person of the Rev. Raymond Kimbrell, Methodist preacher.

"The girls merely are ambitious," the Rev. Mr. Kimbrell, told his congregation. "The nation is wearing silk
—let them wear silk."

"The working girl ought not to be the victim of cheap economists, who prate about her extravagance, and then discharge her if her appearance is not attractive," he said.

FOUR DROWNED IN AUTO.

Car Runs Through Open Draw At St.
Augustine.

St. Augustine.—Four persons, two young women and two young men, were drowned here when a small closed car ran through the open draw of the bridge between Anastasia Island and St. Augustine.

The car went down in 30 feet of water with the occupants inside.
Divers have been summoned from Jacksonville to assist in raising the machine. The boys, it was understood, were residents of St. Augustine, while the young women were hotel workers.

APRIL 10 SET AS GENOA DATE.

Conference Announced According To Premier's Schedule.

London.—April 10 is the date officially set for the opening of the International Economic Conference at Genoa. This was the date agreed upon by Premier Lloyd George and Premier Poincare at their Boulogne conference.

MAY KEEP HANDS OFF RUSSIA.

France Reported Opposed To Aiding
In Proposed Reconstruction.

Paris.—France may refuse to participate in proposed reconstruction of Russia. It was semi-officially announced. The Poincare Ministry, it was learned, may announce it has changed its attitude toward Russia, because the recent declaration of Bolshevism is believed to show the "Bolsheviks" are reverting to their old ways.

CONGRESS MAY DEMAND RECALL OF TROOPS FROM RHINE.

Washington.—Congressional demands that all American troops be immediately withdrawn from Europe are expected as a sequel to the claim of the United States to pay $241,000,000 for maintenance of the army on the Rhine.

There are fewer than 5,000
American troops on the Rhine, several thousand having been ordered home. The Administration planned not to withdraw entirely at present, but would leave about 2,000 United States soldiers in Europe indefinitely.

If neither Germany nor the Allies will pay the bill for these troops, which up to May 1, 1921, amounted to $241,000,000, they should be brought out, many members of both the House and Senate believe.

SEC. DAVIS URGES MINERS' PAY PACT

Calls on Factions of Impending Strike to Meet

SEVERAL OWNERS FIRM

Many Accept Invitation—Miners And Operators Alike Signify Friendship To Federal Suggestion.

Washington.—Secretary of Labor
Davis broke the silence he has maintained during the 10 days in which the Government has actively sought intervention in the impending coal strike to urge mine operators and the miners' unions "in the name of common sense to get together and save the country from the costly results of a strike." The Government has "no desire to interfere unduly," he announced, but "has a duty to safeguard the interests of the people who will be seriously affected by the suspension of coal mining."

Although no immediate responses were received at the Secretary's office after the statement was issued, press dispatches immediately reflected the interest taken in it by representatives of unions and operators in the country's widespread coal field.
Official reports to the department, however, were concerned largely with details concerning the dissemination in the miners' organization, where Frank Farrington, the Illinois leader, and some other district heads are said to be beginning local negotiations in defiance of the policy of President John L. Lewis and the national executive board of the United Mine Workers. Reports also were received on the attitude of individual mine operators who have in the past entered into national wage agreements.

The department's agents have been assured that miners' locals in nearly all sections throughout union fields are "overwhelmingly voting to strike April 1," but this information has been discounted to a degree, officials said, because a strike vote is quite often taken so that committees assigned to negotiate the issue can act with fullest authority.

There is no disposition in official circles to conceal that Mr. Davis' statement, which explained again the Government's position, was one result of the repeated refusal of Pennsylvania and other mine operators in the central competitive field to enter negotiations looking to another national wage agreement. The union, it was pointed out here, has sought this course from the beginning, and the operators have been unyielding in opposition, though willing in some cases to make local or district contracts with the union.

CAR QUITS TRESTLE; 7 DEAD.

Passenger Coach Takes Plunge Of Fifty Feet.

Atlanta, Ga.—Seven persons were killed and sixteen injured Sunday when a passenger coach on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad was derailed near Union City.
The car went off a trestle and fell 50 feet.

Thirty persons were in the coach when one of the wheels burst. The trestle was almost crossed when the car suddenly turned over and fell into the shallow creek.

Six men and one woman were killed and several of the injured are not expected to live. For hours rescue parties worked in the wreckage, releasing those imprisoned and removing the dead, the injured being removed to hospitals here.

ROMA PROBE COMPLETED.

Report Of Cause Of Disaster Will Be Made To War Department.

Norfolk.—Investigation of the destruction of the semi-rigid airship Roma at the army base here two weeks ago with the loss of 34 lives and injuries to others was concluded by the army board appointed by Major-General Patrick, chief of the Air Service.

PRICKS FORTUNE BUBBIE.

Attorney Says Only $100,000, Not Millions, Involved.

New York.—But little more than $100,000, instead of the millions reported, are involved in litigation pending over the trust fund established by Peter Cooper, it was announced by Henry B. Closson, attorney for Erskine Hewitt, Sarah Cooper Hewitt and Eleanor G. Hewitt, brother and sisters of the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, noted inventor.

AFRICAN REBELS TAKEN PRISONERS

Strong Positions at Sophi-town Captured

BOMBINGS BY AIRPLANES

One Hundred Dead At Johannesburg—
Police Station Reported Burned
By Striking Miners At Fordburg.

Johannesburg.—A shot was fired at the automobile containing General Jan Christian Smuts, the premier, Sunday as he was being driven toward the Rand, near Potchefstroom. The premier was not hurt, although a bullet struck the car.

Johannesburg.—The troops have captured 1,500 revolutionists at Sophi-town and Brixton Ridge, besides clearing the neighboring ridges, an important achievement, as the positions were strong and the rebel occupation presented grave menace. Airplanes dropped 32 bombs on revolutionists surrounding a party of police in the Brixton area, causing numerous casualties and scattering the others, many of whom surrendered.

The Government issued a long communication this afternoon, declaring that the operations were proceeding very satisfactorily and that strong forces were rapidly converging.

At least 100 persons are believed to have been killed in Saturday's fighting here, and the wounded will reach a much larger number.

Desperate efforts are being made by the commandos to gain control of the town before the forces under Maj.
Gen. Sir J. L. Van Deventer and Brig.
Gen. Conrad Brits can arrive. Only the northern part of Johannesburg is free of the commandos.

The fighting for the most part takes the form of sniping, there being only occasional volleys. The only Government forces to be seen are those guarding the City Hall.

Police Station Reported Burned.
The striking miners are reported to have burned the police station at Fordburg.

A communique from Pretoria says large numbers of troops will be available shortly and that recruiting is going on at a satisfactory pace, although many evidently fail to realize the seriousness of the situation.

Cape Town dispatches say that outside the Rand the general strike has had a limited success. At Durban a meeting attended by 800 persons, mostly strikers, resulted in the formation of a commando of 300 men, who paraded without violence.

A similar meeting at Bloemfontein favored formation of commandos, but a single arrest led to the dispersal of the gathering before the decision could be carried out.

Bombs Twice Dropped On Rebels.

Pretoria, Union of South Africa.—
Airplanes have twice dropped bombs on revolutionary commandos, inflicting severe casualties, and a large number of strikers have been killed or wounded in an attack against cavalry at Ellis Park, says a communication issued giving a record of Saturday's disturbances growing out of the strike situation.

"The revolutionaries still are very active," says the communication.
"They have been burning houses at Benoni and Boksburg, apparently in retaliation for our bombings. All our airplanes now carry bombs in order that every advantage may be taken on the discovery of revolutionary commandos. Two instances occurred where commandos were successfully bombed.
Direct hits were attained and the revolutionaries suffered severely."

SPOOK TRAP FAILS TO WORK.

Scientific Expedition Finds Nothing
Unearthly At MacDonald Farm.

Halifax, N. S.—All is earthly at Antigonish now.
The occult manifestations which resulted in a serious scientific expedition to the MacDonald farm have not been repeated for the benefit of Dr. Franklin Prince, who is leading the investigation.

As a result of the spooks' nonappear-ance, Dr. Prince has invited the Mac-Donalds to come back to their farm, and, if possible, induce the ghost to perform. The cattle and horses, which were mysteriously shifted in their stalls as part of the spooks' peregrinations, have already been placed in position for another performance.

Mrs. MacDonald, however, is suffering from a shock as a result of the ghosts' previous visit, and it may prove difficult to persuade her to return as bait for the investigators' spook trap.

HOTEL IS FINED $25,000.

Chicago Firm Convicted For Violating Prohibition Laws.

Chicago.—Judge A. Carpenter assessed fines totaling $25,000 against the Hotel Sherman here, after a conviction on 26 counts of violating the prohibition laws.

TO PROBE SOLDIERS' DEATHS.

Coroner Orders Inquest Of Fatalities
From Blood Serum Injection.

Waukesha, Wis.—Death of three former soldiers at Resthaven Sanatorium following injection of a well-known serum for a blood disease while under treatment at the institution caused Coroner L. F. Lee to order an inquest and Governor Blaine to send a State physician from Madison to assist in the autopsies.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

BALTIMORE.—Wheat—No. 2 winter spot, $1.40½, $1.46½, $1.47½ and $1.32½; No. 2 garlicky spot, $1.38½,
$1.44½ and $1.28½.

Corn—Track yellow corn, No. 3 or better, for domestic delivery, is quotable at 74 cents per bu., asked for car-lots on spot. Contract spot, 66½¢;
No. 4 spot, 65¢.

Cob Corn—Sales included car contract, spot, at 67½¢ and No. 3 yellow, to go in, at 74 per bu.

Oats—No. 2 white, as to weight,
47½¢, asked; No. 3 white, as to weight,
46½¢, asked.

Rye—No. 2 Western, spot, $1.12½;
bag lots nearby rye, as to quality, 95¢ @ $1.05 per bu.

Millfeed—City Mills winter bran, per ton, in 100-lb. sacks, $38; Patapsco millfeed, per ton, in 100-lb. sacks, $36;
white middlings, per ton, in 80-lb. cotton sacks, $41; same in 100-lb. cotton sacks, $38.

Hay—Demand fair for desirable grades of timothy, mixed and clover hay and with light receipts the market is steady at from $17 to $21 per ton as to grade.

Straw—No. 1 tangled, per ton,
$15.50; No. 1 wheat, $11; No. 1 oat
(nominal), $11½.

Butter—Creamery, fancy, 38¢@39¢;
do, choice, 36¢@37¢; do, good, 34¢@35¢;
do, prints, 33¢@41¢; do, blocks, 33¢@40¢;
do, nearby, 34¢@37¢; ladies, 24¢@25¢;
Maryland and Penna. rolls, 22¢@23¢;
Ohio rolls, 22¢@23¢; West Virginia rolls, 20¢@21¢; store-packed, 19¢; Md., Va. and
Pa. dairy prints, 20¢@23¢.

Eggs—Western Maryland, Pennsylvania, nearby, 23¢; Eastern Shore, Maryland and Virginia, 23¢; Western, 23¢; West Virginia, 22½¢; Southern, 22¢;
duck eggs, choice, nearby, doz., 50¢;
goose eggs, choice, nearby, 80¢@90¢.

Live Poultry—Chickens, young, per lbs., smooth, 33¢@34¢; rough, staggy and thip, 23¢@24¢; winter, 2 lbs. and less, 37¢@38¢; old roosters, 17¢@18¢;
ducks, muscovy and mongrel, per lb.,
young, 32¢; white pekings, young, 35¢;
puddle, 3½ lbs. and over, 35¢; smaller, poor, 28¢. Pigeons, per pair, old, 35¢@ 40¢; young, 35¢@40¢. Guinea fowl, young, each, 2 lbs., 65¢@70¢; old, each, 40¢. Turkeys, choice hens, 9 lbs. and over, 43¢@45¢; young gobblers, 35¢@38¢;
old toms, 35¢; thin, crooked breast, 30¢.
Geese, Maryland and Virginia, per lb., fat, heavy, 27¢@28¢; Southern and Western, 25¢@26¢; Kent Island, 25¢@30¢;
all sections, poor and thin, 20¢@22¢.

Dressed Hogs—Choice light weights, per lb., 12¼¢@13¢; do, medium, per lb., 12¢; do, heavy, per lb., 11¢; boars and rough stock, per lb., 6¢@7¢.

Potatoes—Western Maryland and Pennsylvania No. 1, per 100 pounds, $2 @2.15; New York and New Jersey, No. 1, per 100 lbs., $2@2.15; native or nearby, No. 1, $2@2.75; Eastern Shore, Maryland and Virginia McCormicks, do, $1.65@1.75; Southern Maryland
McCormicks, $1.75@1.90; red potatoes,
$1.65@1.75; all sections, No. 2, do, 75¢
@81¢; all sections, No. 1, per 150-lb.
bag, $3@3.25; No. 2, do, $1.75@2.25.
Sweets, North Carolina, No. 1, per brl.,
$4@4.50; Eastern Shore, Va., per brl.,
$3.50@4. Yams, all sections, per brl.,
$2@4. Sweets and yams, all sections,
No. 2, do, $1.75@2. Sweets, all sections, No. 1, per bu. hamp, $1.50@1.75.
Yams, all sections, No. 1, do, per hamp,
$1.40@1.65. Sweets and yams, all sections, No. 2, per hamp, 50¢@75¢.

NEW YORK.—Wheat—No. 2 red and No. 2 hard, $1.42½; No. 1 Manitoba, $1.58½; No. 130; No. 1 mixed Durum, $1.40½, c. i. f. track New York, to arrive.

Corn—No. 2 yellow and No. 2 white, 74½¢, and No. 2 mixed, 74½¢, c. i. f.
New York, all rail.

Oats—No. 2 white, 47¢@47½¢.

Hops—Quiet; State 1921, 23¢@30¢;
1920, 18¢@20¢; Pacific Coast 1921, 24¢
@28¢, 1920, 20¢@22¢.

Hay steady; No. 1, $27@29; No. 2, $25@27; No. 3, $24@26; shipping,
$21@23.

Butter—Creamery, higher than extras, 38½¢@39½¢; creamery, extras
(92 score), 38¢@38½¢; creamery, firsts
(88 to 91 score), 34½¢@37½¢.

Eggs—Fresh gathered extra firsts, 24½¢@25¢; do, firsts, 23½¢@24¢; State, nearby and nearby Western henery whites, firsts to extras, 28¢@33¢; do, henery browns, extras, 26½¢@27½¢;
State and nearby gathered browns and mixed colors, firsts to extras, 23½¢@26¢.

Cheese—State, whole milk, flats, fresh, specials, 21¢; do, average run, 20¢ @20½¢; State whole milk, fresh twins, specials, 20½¢@21¢; do, average run, 20¢.
Dressed Poultry—Western chickens, 26¢@42¢; fowls, 22¢@34¢; old roosters, 18¢ @24¢; turkeys, 46¢@51¢.

PHILADELPHIA.—Wheat—No. 2 red winter, $1.34@1.39; do, garlicky, $1.29@1.34.

LIVE STOCK

BALTIMORE.—Calves—Choice
handy weight veals, per lb., 11¢; choice fat, heavy veals, 9½¢@10¢; fair to good, 9¢@9½¢; heavy, smooth, fat veals, 7¢@8¢;
heavy, rough calves, 6¢@7¢.

Lambs and Sheep—No. 1 sheep, per lb., 5¢@6¢; fair to good, 3½¢@4½¢; common, 2½¢@3½¢; old bucks, 4¢@4½¢; lambs, choice, per lb., 13¢@14¢; fair to good, 10¢@12¢; common, thin, 8¢@9¢.

CHICAGO.—Cattle—Bulk beef steers, $7.60@8.25; she stock, stockers and feeders mostly steady; closing easy; bulk she stock, $5.60@6.00; bulk stockers and feeders, $6.50@7.40.
Hogs—Top, $11.50; bulk, $10.85@ @11.35; pigs slow, 25¢ lower; desirable 100 to 120-pounders mostly $9.75 @10.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Hogs—Heavies,
$11.90@12½¢; heavy Yorkers, $12.35@
12.60; light Yorkers, $12.15; pigs, $11.50.

BETTER ROADS

GET SURPLUS WAR MATERIAL

Bureau of Public Roads Distributes Different Articles for Highway Construction.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Many and varied are the articles of surplus war material which have been distributed through the bureau of public roads. United States Department of Agriculture, among the various states for road-building purposes. These articles were turned over by the War Department to the Department of Agriculture under the Wadsworth-Kahn bill, the sole stipulation attached to their use being that they be devoted exclusively to the construction and maintenance of roads. The distribution, which has been in process for some time, probably will be completed about the middle of next year.
The total value of machinery, equipment, and supplies, independent of motor vehicles, which have been distributed is more than $30,000,000.
More than 10 closely written typewritten pages are required for the list of articles alone. In the list are included many thousands of iron and steel bars, including 126,497 pairs of splice bars for 25-pound rails; 48,460 axes of various kinds; several hundred automobile bodies, and many thousand tons of spare parts; 12,308 brooms of various kinds; 275,085 feet of assorted cable; 60 cameras; 1,201

Truck Adapted to Road Work.

miscellaneous flat and gondola cars;
1,200 miscellaneous concrete curbs;
17,350 feet of cord; 1,533 compasses of various sizes; 1,108 field desks; 24 grindstones; 4,690 hammers; 16,075 sets of assorted harness; 1,990 hatch-ets; 382,282 feet of various kinds and sizes of hose; 31,025 assorted lanterns; 14 sets of micrometers; 15, 902 sheets of sand paper; 156,436 picks; 47,900 spark plugs; 307,947 fence posts; 25,000 gross tons of rails;
588,007 sheets of roofing metal; 494, 800 feet of various kinds and sizes of rope; 67 salamanders; 378,812 shovels of various kinds; 47,892 spades; 1,757 tractors of various types; 4,773 wagons; 7,090 wheelbarrows; and wire of various kinds amounting to approximately 2,000 tons.

EXTENSIVE SURVEY OF ROADS

Mileage, Cost, Character of Construction, Improvement Work, Etc., to Be Ascertained.

America's far-flung network of roadways is soon to be measured accurately in terms of mileage, cost, character of construction, improvement work, and general condition by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. The survey, which is the most extensive ever undertaken and the first in seven years, is to be made with the aid of state and local officials the country over, and is comparable only to the great task of taking the national census.

MICHIGAN KEEPS ROADS OPEN

About 1,200 Miles of Highways Being Kept Clear of Snow for Motor-vehicle Traffic.

Michigan is keeping open about 1, 200 miles of its highways this winter in order that motor vehicle traffic may move unhampered on intercity roads.
Michigan first adopted the road-clearing plan on a state scale during the war, when it was necessary to move army trucks out of Michigan factories and to transport war supplies by truck between cities. It worked out so well that the highway department has been following the practice ever since.

WILL PLANT OREGON CEDARS

Systematic Work to Be Inaugurated
In Pennsylvania During the Coming Year.

Systematic planting of trees along Pennsylvania state highways in forest areas is to be undertaken this year. Roads with the least number of poles with wires will be given preference. Plans also are being made to obtain cedars from Oregon for experimental planting in this state.

Bands Prove Failure.

The red-painted bands at busy crossings in Paris, constructed to give protection to pedestrians on highways, have proved a failure. Their pres-

Storm Country Polly

by Grace Miller White

Copyright by Little, Brown & Co.

THE FIGHT

SYNOPSIS.—Occupying a dilapidated shack in the Silent City, squatter settlement near Ithaca, New York, Polly Hopkins lives with her father, small Jerry, and an old woman, Granny Hope. On an adjacent farm, Oscar Bennett, prosperous farmer, is a neighbor. He is secretly married to Evelyn Robertson, supposedly wealthy girl of the neighborhood. Marcus MacKenzie, who owns the ground the squatters occupy, is their determined enemy. Polly overhears a conversation between MacKenzie and a stranger, in which the former avows his intention of driving the squatters from his land. The stranger sympathizes with the squatters, and earns Polly's gratitude. Evelyn Robertson discovers from her mother that they are not rich, but practically living on the bounty of Robert Percival, Evelyn's cousin. Polly learns from Evelyn that the sympathetic stranger is Robert Percival. Evelyn charges Polly with a message to Bennett, telling him she can give him no more money. She already bitterly regrets her marriage to the ignorant farmer. Oscar makes threats. He insists Evelyn meet him that night. Polly has her father and Larry Bishop, a squatter, take an oath to do MacKenzie no injury. Evelyn unsuccessfully tries to get money from her mother with which to buy off Bennett and induce him to leave the country, giving her freedom. She and MacKenzie avow their love. At the arranged meeting that night Bennett threatens Evelyn with exposure unless she gives him money. Polly meets Robert Percival, and they are mutually attracted. Polly's feeling being adoration.

CHAPTER VII.

To describe the Oscar Bennett's rage when he left the two girls in Granny Hope's shack would indeed be a task. Of late Evelyn had ceased to attract him. In the excitement of the courtship he had put his best foot forward, and for a time after the marriage he had found a great satisfaction in the thought that she was his. When the glamour of their secret honeymoon-time had worn off, and the farmer's crude, cruel nature had been disclosed, Evelyn's mad infatuation had disappeared in terror-stricken horror.

As Evelyn was finding in Marcus MacKenzie a mate more to her taste, Bennett's primitive passions had burst into a sudden flame for Polly Hopkins. The squatter girl's scorn of him, her drawing ridicule, only made him desire her more.

A couple of days after the night scene with the girls, he left his house and took his way to the lake. He crossed his fender lot and plunged into the MacKenzie forest which lay between the railroad tracks and the water. In his pocket he had a letter for Evelyn. He intended to kill two birds with one stone. If he could find Polly Hopkins alone, he would tell her the decision he had come to and give her the note to deliver.

Oscar did not relish entering the Silent City by the highway. The squatters hated him as much as he did them, more, in all probability; and it was his habit to give the settlement a wide berth. If he discovered any of them on his land, with the exception of Polly Hopkins, he drove them away furiously. Oscar was one of those who would rather have produced rot on his land than give it to the needy.

Before vaulting the MacKenzie fence, the sound of people talking on the other side halted him. Polly's voice came distinctly to him, and another voice, a man's, answered her. The deep well-bred tones Bennett was sure did not belong to a squatter. He listened carefully to pick up the import of the conversation. The bass voice mumbled something about a mother. In response the squatter girl's tones fell upon his ear. "Some day you'll be the biggest an' most beautiful daddie in the world." Then followed the rush of departing hoofs.

Jealousy tore at the eavesdropper. It did not take him long to get to the top of the fence.

Some sound he made brought the squatter girl's head around sharply from her survey of the picture.

"What do you want?" she asked sullenly, frowning at him.

Dexter shook his head and champed his bit in disapproval. He was accustomed to mad, harum-scarum gallops, and he loved them; but this morning, especially since the pause by the fence corner, he had been compelled to mope along like a worn-out, old nag.

His master was thinking, really and seriously thinking. Happily born and the heir to an immense fortune, his way through life so far had been marked out for him. He had gone to war carelessly, in a mood of hot patriotism and because it was the thing to do. Over there he had done his share and gained, especially from his French comrades, an inkling of life's vital purpose. He had decided that,

"What do you want?" she asked sullenly, frowning at him.

Oscar jumped to the ground. "I come down to see you, Pollyop," he rejoined, coming forward. "Who were you talking to?"

The only safe way to get along with the farmer, Polly had concluded, was to have nothing to do with him.

"Leave me be, Oscar Bennett!" she shrieked. "I don't want nothin' to do with you. I'm goin' home."

To cut off her retreat, Oscar needed to take but a couple of strides, and he promptly took them.

"Jeminy crickets!" he expostulated. "Don't be so confounded short, Pollyop! You needn't be mad because I swatted you one. You aren't my woman yet, but you're going to be just as soon as I can get shut of my lady Robertson."

Observing no signs of softening in the girl's face, he switched his attack. "Say, where'd you get that lamb?"

This query unfolded new terrors for Polly. She had not thought of the lamb belonging to anyone but herself. Had she not found him dying in the water and loved and fed him ever since? She looked first at the man, then down at the lamb.

"He's mine, Oscar," she hesitated. "I've had him two hull days now."

Oscar laughed.

"A likely story!" he jeered. "How long since squatters raised sheep? Where'd you get him?"

"Found him," she answered, putting her hand on the little animal.

"Then he isn't yours," he retorted, "and he can't be anybody's but mine. I thought I was missing some lamba."

Polly's eyes filled with alarm. She was trying to frame an argument in favor of herself and the creature she loved.

"When you find a thing dyin' in a creek, Oscar," she faltered at length, "you can take him home an' love him, now can't you?"

The man's loud guffaw brought a deep flush to the girl's face. She placed herself directly between him and the lamb.

"He's mine," she insisted. "He'd drowned sure if I hadn't jumped into the drink an' pulled him out."

Her words made the farmer certain where the creature came from.

"Dead or alive, he's mine!" he exclaimed.

Besides coveting the lamb, he hated the squatter girl's way of fondling animals. When he got her, he determined, he would take all of that kind of nonsense out of her.

With one sweep of his mighty hand, he thrust her aside, and, whipping out his knife, he cut the rope that held Nanny Hopkins to Polly's arm. Then, in spite of the girl's frantic cries and her desperate fighting against it, Oscar picked up the lamb.

Pollyop screamed frantically, for from the look on his evil face, she saw instantly what he intended to do. He was going to kill Nannyop! Again she flew at him, but he was tall and strong and held the lamb aloft in the air, high out of her reach. With a rough oath he pushed the girl from him so roughly that she fell. When Polly scrambled up, he had the lamb in one hand and a large stone in the other.

"Oscar!" she shrieked.

She dropped to her knees, clasped Wee Jerry in her arms, and shrouded his face and her own in her curls. When she dared look up again, Oscar had thrown the dead lamb on the ground.

"There," he gritted, "that's to teach you a lesson, Miss Polly Hopkins. And now I'll open your eyes to something else."

As he crossed to her, she tried to struggle to her feet; but her legs were weak, and she was sick over the quivering body there in the road. In another minute Oscar had snatched her into his arms.

She shrieked again and again; and Jerry's loud cries followed, as she fought desperately with the burly farmer.

Once out of sight of the Red Cross poster and the little group in front of it, Percival checked his horse. Bay to the quick. She kept the hut as clean as broom and lake water could make it.

"It's our home, mister! all we got," she replied, and she straightened her shoulders with dignity.

"Rotten, just the same," repeated Marcus. "Say, you! Come and stand here before me."

He touched a spot on the floor with his riding whip; and Polly stepped upon it.

"Now you listen to me," he said sternly. "I've come with a proposition to your father, and if you've any influence with him, you'd better talk him into it."

Polly's face brightened a little. Then it was not real harm coming to Daddy Hopkins today. She wished now that he would come in; and, almost as if in answer to the throbbing of her nerves, Hopkins passed through the doorway with Wee Jerry clinging to his neck.

The trembling girl saw his face grow gray at the sight of his powerful enemy.

Jeremiah made an awkward bob of his head to Marcus, slipped Jerry into his arms and without a word sat down. And Pollyop, full of curiosity and anxiety, sat down too, her brilliant eyes steadily leveled upon MacKenzie.

"Hopkins," began Marcus, "I've come with a proposal to you. If you've got any sense, you'll impress its value on the rest of your fellows here, for by hook or by crook, I intend to break up this settlement and burn these shacks."

One long gasp came from Polly. Her father said nothing but looked back at the speaker as if he had not heard.

"Daddy ain't got the hull right to say what's what," she interrupted suddenly. "There's lots of squatters."

"Then call in some of the others," MacKenzie snapped. "And don't be long about it. I want to know what's going to be done before I go."

Polly flashed a glance at her father. "Go get 'em, brat," he directed. "An' bring Larry."

Out into the settlement she went, and when she came back into the shanty, there followed her an angry set of ill-dressed men; and outside a sullen group of women waited to hear what Old Mac had to offer.

One by one the men silently ranged themselves in a row around the hut wall while Polly stood at her father's shoulder, one hand resting upon it, and the other on Wee Jerry's head.

Marcus MacKenzie knew the group of men he had to deal with. He knew their wicked ways, how they thieved, how they used their nets against the law, and how they shot game out of season. He remembered, too, how many had been sent to prison with his aid, but this day he hoped to get rid of them all at once.

"I want to pay you fellows to go away from Ithaca," he plumped the proposition at them baldly. "If it hadn't been the easiest way out, I wouldn't have considered it a minute. But after talking it over with my lawyer, I've decided to give you all a sum of money if you'll leave peaceably."

Horrible Thought.

At the movies a film was on, showing the children trooping back to school after the holidays. Half a hundred tots were shown following the teacher into the building. Across the aisle a shrill voice piped up: "Mamma! Say, mamma, is that all one family?"

that accumulated beside his kennel. All became clear the other day when Mrs. Shiftlet saw the Airedale approach Jack's kennel with a big soupbone in his mouth, set it down in front of his tethered friend, wag his tail gleefully, bark a message of good cheer, dance playfully about for a moment and then dash off for some new adventure. A watch kept on the Airedale showed that trips were made to the hound's quarters every day. Sometimes instead of a bone the offering was a bit of meat or some other dainty.

Kind heartedness that might well serve as an example for human kind is displayed by "Pat" an Airedale pup of Point Pleasant, W. Va., says a correspondent, the object of its fine feeling being a hound owned by Bert Shiftlet. The story of the four-footed pet's benevolence is attested by members of both families, who are neighbors. Shiftlet keeps his hound, "Jack," tied in the back yard. Thomas Airedale, however, has the untrammeled liberty of a freeborn American dog and makes the most of it. He is a good forager and knows the location and probable yield of every garbage can in the neighborhood. Mrs. Shiftlet feeds Jack generously, and not infrequently the menu contains an appetizing bone, but she did not give Jack all the bones

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

"Then I'll wait," said Marcus. "I'll sit down and wait."

Polly set out a chair for him, her legs trembling so she could scarcely stand. Granny Hope grunted out a word of greeting, but the man gave her no answer; and, after blinking at him a few times, the old woman fell asleep.

"This is a rotten hole," spat out MacKenzie presently, looking at the girl.

This scornful comment on the quarters Daddy Hopkins worked so hard to support touched the squatter girl

when she found a group of her women-folks wondering how their absent laddies were, she led them in smiling assurance to Old Mac's fence and there repeated what Robert Percival had said about the Greatest Mother in the World.

One morning Pollyop was cleaning the shanty and Granny Hope was seated by the stove. A sharp rap came on the door. When Polly opened it and recognized the caller, she would have closed the door and barred it if a man's heavy boot, thrust across the threshold, had not prevented her. There in his riding clothes, haughty and frowning, stood Marcus MacKenzie.

"Where's Jeremiah Hopkins?" he demanded, eyeing Pollyop sternly.

She flinched with the edge of her apron. Had MacKenzie come to harm her best beloved?

"My daddy's gone out," she returned finally, in a low tone.

The Middletown Transcript

MIDDLETOWN, DELAWARE
Published Every Saturday Morning
At Middletown, New Castle Co., Del.
—BY—
THOS. S. FOURACKER, Editor and Publisher
Entered at the Post Office at Middletown, Del., as second-class matter

SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 1922

WEEKS GETS FORD'S NUMBER

THE value of second thought and plenty of discussion has seldom been so strongly proven as in the case of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals. The effective Ford propaganda that accompanied the submission last July of the original proposal spoke only of the tremendous advantage to the farmer of having the plant in operation for the production of nitrate, the return of some millions of dollars to the Federal Treasury for an idle property, and the big development of the South that would be certain to follow the acceptance of the offer. Only the beauties of the scheme were laid before the people, and Ford was hailed as a public benefactor.

But Secretary Weeks took his time to investigate the proposition. He personally visited the project, and had his own engineers make surveys and estimates. The result has been that facts have been uncovered that appear to show Mr. Ford up in the light of an applicant for huge properties worth many millions more than he offers to pay for them. Instead of nitrates being the principal product of the plant, it is revealed that only about one-seventh of the power generated by the dams and power houses will be used for that purpose, and the other six-sevenths will be sold by Mr. Ford for profit or used by him in the manufacture of something else. When the Congressional committee makes its report, public debates on the floors of the two Houses will further advertise the truth to the people. In the end Mr. Ford is more likely to lose than gain in public esteem.

THE operators and workers of anthracite mines have arranged a conference over their difficulties, and Secretary of Labor Davis indicates that he will summon another conference at Washington before the expiration of wage agreements on April 1st. Both operators and men are to be congratulated on their resort to mutual discussion of their differences rather than to destruction of life and property through a tieup of the sources of fuel. The tendency of the times is toward peace and arbitration. There is even more reason why such methods should win success between domestic interests than between nations.

THE Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the principal Japanese steamship line in the Pacific, announces that four 10,000-ton steamers running to Seattle are to be replaced by four 6,000-ton ships. At the same time passenger fares are to be cut approximately 30 per cent. The changes are significant of the effects of American competition in the Pacific carrying trade.

ESTATE OF THEODORE CARROW, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Letters Testamentary upon the Estate of Theodore Carrow, late of Red Lion Hundred, deceased, were duly granted unto Mary E. Carrow on the Eighth day of November A. D. 1921 and all persons indebted to the said deceased are requested to make payment to the Executrix without delay, and all persons having demands against the deceased are required to exhibit and present the same duly probated to the said Executrix on or before the Eighth day of November A. D. 1922 or abide by the law in this behalf.

MARY E. CARROW, Executrix.
Address: RICHARD S. ROONEY, Att'y-at-Law, 907 Market Street, Wilmington, Delaware.

ESTATE OF JOHN ROBERT RIGGIN, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Letters Testamentary upon the Estate of John Robert Riggins, late of St. Georges Hundred, deceased, were duly granted unto Wilbert H. Radcliffe on the twentieth day of December, A. D. 1921, and all persons indebted to the said deceased are requested to make payment to the Executor without delay, and all persons having demands against the deceased are required to exhibit and present the same duly probated to the said Executor on or before the twentieth day of December, A. D. 1922 or abide by the law in this behalf.

WILBERT H. RADCLIFFE, Executor.
Address: HENRY R. ISAACS, Att'y-at-Law, Industrial Trust Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

ESTATE OF ADA L. LOCKWOOD, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Letters Testamentary upon the Estate of Ada L. Lockwood, late of St. Georges Hundred, deceased, were duly granted unto Martin B. Burris on the twenty-third day of February A. D. 1922 and all persons indebted to the said deceased are requested to make payment to the Executor without delay, and all persons having demands against the deceased are required to exhibit and present the same duly probated to the said Executor on or before the twenty-third day of February A. D. 1922, or abide by the law in this behalf.

MARTIN B. BURRIS, Executor.
Address: Middletown, Delaware.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals will be received by the State Highway Department, at its office, Dover, Delaware, until 2 o'clock, P. M., March 23, 1922, and at that place and time publicly opened and read in the order here shown, for the construction of State and State Aid Highways, involving the following approximate quantities:

CONTRACT NO. 45, 0.504 MILES
Appoquinimink and Blackbird Hill
1,400 cu. yds. Excavation
940 tons Broken Slag Base Course
190 cu. yd. Cement Concrete Pavement
2,880 sq. yds. Penetration Macadam Surface

CONTRACT NO. CN-4, 3.225 MILES
Smyrna to Walker's School
15,000 cu. yds. Excavation
2,000 cu. yds. Borrow
200 tons Broken Stone Base Course
6,200 cu. yds. Cement Concrete Pavement
100 cu. yds. Class A Concrete
4,500 lbs. Reinforcement
360 lin. ft. 15 in. R. C. Pipe
30 lin. ft. 18 in. R. C. Pipe
120 lin. ft. 24 in. R. C. Pipe
30 lin. ft. 30 in. R. C. Pipe
30 lin. ft. 36 in. R. C. Pipe
140 lin. ft. Relaid Pipe, 18 in. and under 40 lin. ft. Relaid Pipe, more than 18 in.
340 lin. ft. Cable Guard Rail

CONTRACT NO. CK-2, 3.946 MILES
Harrington to Houston
12,200 cu. yds. Excavation
2,800 cu. yds. Borrow
200 tons Broken Stone Base Course
7,550 cu. yds. Cement Concrete Pavement
210 cu. yds. Class A Concrete
70 cu. yds. Class B Concrete
13,500 lbs. Reinforcement
600 lin. ft. 15 in. R. C. Pipe
180 lin. ft. 18 in. R. C. Pipe
30 lin. ft. 24 in. R. C. Pipe
100 lin. ft. Relaid Pipe, 18 in. and under 600 lin. ft. Cable Guard Rail
600 lin. ft. Timber Piling

CONTRACT NO. CK-5, 6.276 MILES
Farmers to Dover
0.2 Acres Clearing and Grubbing
1.5 Acres Clearing
21,500 cu. yds. Excavation
2,700 cu. yds. Borrow
400 tons Broken Stone Base Course
12,650 cu. yds. Cement Concrete Pavement
240 cu. yds. Class A Concrete
60 cu. yds. Class B Concrete
17,000 lbs. Reinforcement
600 lin. ft. 15 in. R. C. Pipe
200 lin. ft. 18 in. R. C. Pipe
84 lin. ft. 24 in. R. C. Pipe
56 lin. ft. 30 in. R. C. Pipe
30 lin. ft. 36 in. R. C. Pipe
300 lin. ft. Relaid Pipe, 18 in. and under 80 lin. ft. Relaid Pipe, more than 18 in.
1,000 lin. ft. Cable Guard Rail
500 lin. ft. Timber Piling

CONTRACT NO. CK-3, 4.09 MILES
Houston to Milford
11,200 cu. yds. Excavation
600 cu. yds. Borrow
200 tons Broken Stone Base Course
7,850 cu. yds. Cement Concrete Pavement
90 cu. yds. Class A Concrete
3,200 lbs. Reinforcement
600 lin. ft. 15 in. R. C. Pipe
100 lin. ft. 18 in. R. C. Pipe
60 lin. ft. 24 in. R. C. Pipe
100 lin. ft. Relaid Pipe, 18 in. and under

CONTRACT NO. CK-9, 6.23 MILES
Marydel to Pearsons
26,000 cu. yds. Excavation
3,000 cu. yds. Borrow
300 tons Broken Stone Base Course
11,950 cu. yds. Cement Concrete Pavement
44 cu. yds. Class A Concrete
100 cu. yds. Class B Concrete
27,000 lbs. Reinforcement
17,550 lbs. Structural Steel
700 lin. ft. 15 in. R. C. Pipe
400 lin. ft. 18 in. R. C. Pipe
28 lin. ft. 24 in. R. C. Pipe
116 lin. ft. 30 in. R. C. Pipe
78 lin. ft. 36 in. R. C. Pipe
800 lin. ft. Cable Guard Rail
1,400 lin. ft. Timber Piling

Performance of contract shall commence within ten (10) days after execution of the contract and be completed during 1922.

Monthly payments will be made for 90 per cent of the construction completed each month.

Bidders must submit proposals upon forms provided by the Department. Each proposal must be accompanied by a surety bond, certified check, or money to the amount of at least ten (10) per centum of the total amount of the proposal.

The envelope containing the proposal must be marked "Proposal for the Construction of State or State Aid Highways."

The Contract will be awarded or rejected within twenty (20) days from the date of opening proposals.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Contractors will be shown over work after March 19.

Detailed plans may be seen after March 15th, and index plans and specifications may be obtained upon deposit of ten dollars ($10.00) which amount will be refunded upon return of plans and specifications in good condition at the office of STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT, Dover, Delaware.

Have You These Symptoms?
If so, Commence Taking Gude's Pepto-Mangan and Get Back to Good Health

Lack of vitality, a feeling of tiredness, bad breath, pale lips, colorless cheeks, loss of weight, flabby flesh, lessened strength—all of these call for the immediate use of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will positively produce satisfactory results. Try taking it with your meals for a few weeks and be surprised with the improvement in your condition. Gude's Pepto-Mangan will help you back to strength during convalescence from any illness. It has been prescribed successfully by physicians everywhere for 30 years. It is a recognized iron tonic of honest merit. For sale in liquid and tablet form by all druggists. Ask for it by the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." Advertisement.

The Transcript, $1.00

SATURDAY
1st SHOW STARTS
7.15 P. M.
2d SHOW STARTS
9.00 P. M.
Two Shows

MIDDLETOWN OPERA HOUSE

J. E. LEWIS, Prop.

Program for week beginning March 20th

MONDAY, MARCH 20th
ROBERTSON-COLE Presents
Mae Marsh
—in—
"Nobody's Kid"

A successful motion picture must have a laugh, a tear, a thought. That's why you'll be highly pleased with Mae Marsh in her very latest production. The teacher said it was the devil-strain in the child that made her so mischievous but the woman who understood thought differently. Come and see which was right, and remember our Monday nights programs are all good ones. First runs on Robertson-Cole makes them so. Burton Holmes Travel Picture. Pathe News. Prices 28c. Children 10c.

TUESDAY, MARCH 21st
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE Featuring
Douglas MacLean
—in—
"Passing Thru"

This is a Thos. H. Ince production. A bank-and-love-and-burglar story capitalized on fun. For in spite of the fact that innoent Billy "passes thru" toward jail—just watch him settle accounts when a train wreck sets him free. A small town romance filled with thrills and paying one hundred laughs on the dollar. Second episode of "Winners of the West," the world's greatest historical serial. Rolan comedy.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22d
ADOLPH ZUKOR Presents
Thomas Meighan
—in—
"The Conquest of Canaan"

This is a Paramount Picture, and Thomas Meighan is the star. You can expect a good picture. They said he was no good and they drove him out of town, but one girl believed in him and when he came back years later—what happened? One of the biggest stories ever written. It gives the good luck star the greatest opportunity he ever had. Fox News. Star comedy. Paramount Magazine.

ADMISSION
—
ADULTS, 28 Cents
CHILDREN, 10 Cents Including War Tax

THURSDAY, MARCH 23d
GOLDWYN PICTURE COR. Presents
"The Invisible Power"
An All-Star Cast

The leading star in this picture is House Peters. What was the Invisible Power that saved Sid Chambers, ex convict, and his wife and baby, when they were in the very shadow of Sing Sing? This thrilling drama of the hidden forces of life has an appeal as moving, as tender and as irresistible as Goldwyn's famous "Madame X." The declamation contest of the Middletown High School will be held in conjunction with this picture. Proceeds for benefit of the school. Watch the front page of The Transcript for this program. Prices, regular, 28c and 10c.

FRIDAY, MARCH 24th
REALART COR. Presents
Bebe Daniels
—in—
"A Game Chicken"

Well folks all you who like Bebe Daniels will surely not go amiss on this one. Showing ahead of Wilmington or Philadelphia is something that the Middletown Opera House is proud of, and the title of the story surely describes this picture. Asop's fables. Mutt and Jeff. Ruth Roland in "White Eagle," episode No. 11. Pathe Review.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25th
WILLIAM FOX Presents
Dustin Farnum
—in—
"The Devil Within"

A story of brutality at sea and its penalty. A dramatic tale of the southern seas, in which brute strength succumbs to mental terror of a curse, and good emerges from evil. A distinguished screen star in a powerful story of the sea. Joe Martin in "A Monkey Schoolmate." Fox News. Sunshine comedy.

Wilmington Merchants Have Arranged for Another Combined Merchandising Event to Prove Wilmington Shopping Advantages.

SUBURBAN SHOPPING DAYS

MARCH 20-21-22

A general portrayal of the new Spring Merchandise and a host of economy attractions will be offered.

Your Attendance Will Be Both Profitable and Enjoyable!

THREE DAYS ONLY, MARCH 20-21-22

Under Direction Mercantile Section, Wilmington Chamber of Commerce

Here's Money Invested FOR YOU

THE Fountain Ice Cream and Soda establishment, Middletown, Del., will be sold. It was fitted up at an expense of Six Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

Its Equipment Is The Best

The Location Most Central in Town

The Store Room large and roomy and has a dancing floor as fine as any in the State. The season is at hand. The price asked for the place can be made back during the coming season. Don't wait, come and see it prepared to close the deal, get ahead of the other fellow. Income from the Electric Piano will more than pay the Rent. Lease will be made for term of years if desired. The sacrifice price will sell it quick.

B. G. SMITH, Owner

Middletown,

Delaware

Public Sale!

The undersigned having sold his farm will sell without reserve, on the farm where he now resides, on the road leading from Olesia to M. Donough, in Vances Neck,

Friday, March 24, 1922

At 10 o'clock, A. M., Sharp.
The following described Personal Property, to-wit:

9 Head of Horses & Colts

No. 1. IOLLY, 12 yrs. old in foal by Clydesdale. This is a general all purpose mare, nice in truck patch.
No. 2. MABEL, 6 yrs. old. This is a nice work or driving mare, can't book her wrong.
No. 3. SAM, 6 yrs. old. This is a nice chunk and an elegant farm horse.
No. 4. DEXTER, 7 yrs. old, full brother to Sam. This pair make a wonderful team.
No. 5. PRINCE, 8 yrs. old, will weigh about 1150 lbs., as good as you make them.
No. 6. LINDALE, 9 yrs. old, full brother to Prince. This pair of horses can not be booked wrong.
No. 7. YOUNG PRINCE, 6 yrs. old, a good work horse and an elegant driver.
Nos. 8 and 9. Pair of jet black fine mare colts, coming 2 yrs. old.

20 Head of Grade Holstein Cows & Heifers

and 2 Bulls; 11 milch cows, some fresh and others close springers; 3 two yr. old heifers, 6 heifer calves, 1 weanling heifer calf, 1 grade bull, 2 yrs. old; 1 registered Holstein bull with papers. These cows have all passed the second Federal tuberculosis test.

HOGS—7 shoats weighing about 100 lbs. or more, 3 shoats weighing 50 or 60 lbs.; 1 registered Duroc male hog.

Farming Implements, &c.

One manure spreader, John Deere; 1000 lb. crusher, land roller, 3 section spring harrow, 2 wheel cultivators, hay tedder, 2 riding plows, 2 No. 40 Oliver plows, 1 No. 19 Oliver plow, subsoil plow, new ground plow, 4 hand cutters, 1 A harrow, 1 2, 3, 4 and 5-horse trees, pump, platform scales, corn sheller, wagon tongues and centre poles, grain fan, 125 grain sacks, barn truck, grass seeder, block and fall and rope, 3 shovels and 1 spade, grindstone, vise, 3 cranial saws, 2 hedge knives, straw knife, 4 head balers, 3 axes, 8 Wedges and 1 mallet, 8 corn knives, 4 bush axes long handle shovel, self binder, corn planter, deershoe, sleigh, 2 grain drills, 2 wacons, 2 riggings, mower, deershoe pole, carriage pole, hay rake, cutaway harrow, snail plow, road scoop, lot of log chains, 1 60-tooth drag harrow, 1 yoc-k carriage, several long and short forks, sprinkler, 8 or 9 milk cans, bushel basket, dinner bell, wheelbarrow, horse trough.

HARNESSES—Three sets leather harness, 9 sets plow harness, 8 horse collars, 8 bridles, set deershoe harness.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS—One cook stove, 2 chunk stoves, tables, benches and chairs, and other articles too numerous to mention.

Hay by the Ton. Corn by the Bushel.

This sale will be positive, rain or shine, as I give possession March 25th.

TERMS OF SALE

All sums of $25 and under. Cash; over that amount a credit of 6 months will be given by purchaser giving bankable note with approved endorser. Interest added from day of sale. Positively no goods to be removed until conditions of sale are complied with.

GEORGE W. HURD.

Eugene Racine, Auctioneer.

C. E. Peol, Inside Clerk.

W. Lee Pennington, Outside Clerk.

POPULAR PRICES REVAILED

Big demand this season for Popular Priced Wear for Men and Boys—we are ready for it.

Men's Business Suits $15 to $25
Men's Worsteds Suits $20 to $30
Men's Dress-Up Suits $25 to $50
Young Men's Suits $20 to $40

Top Coats

New Tweeds $25 to $40
Blacks and Oxfords $25 to $35
New Hats $2.50 to $3.50
New Shirts $1.50 to $3.50
New Spring Ties 50c and 75c
New Shoes $5 and $6
New Sox 25c to $1.50
All Boys' clothing in High School Sizes 15 to 19 yrs. long trousers; 8 to 18 yrs. with Knickers and 3 to 8 yrs. for the little fellow.

MULLIN'S HOME STORE

Sixth and Market
WILMINGTON, DEL.

"FOR THE LANDS SAKE"

USE GROUND OYSTER SHELL

LIME

(Containing Ammonia)

BUY NOW

Manufacturers

The Oyster Shell Products Co.

Philadelphia, Pa.

PENNSYLVANIA SYSTEM
The Route of the Broadway Limited
$3.00 Round Trip
WASHINGTON
BALTIMORE
Sunday, April 2d
SPECIAL TRAIN
Leaves Middletown 7.41 A. M.
Stopping at principle stations between SALISBURY and PORTER
Returning, leaves Washington 4.55 P. M.
Baltimore (Union Station) 6.50 P. M.
Tickets on sale beginning Friday, March 31
VISIT LIBRARY OF CONGRESS, OPEN 2.00 P. M., NEW NATIONAL MUSEUM, 1.30 to 4.30 P. M., CORCORAN ART GALLERY, 1.30 to 4.30 P. M., BOTANIC GARDEN, 8.00 A. M. to 4.30 P. M., WASHINGTON MONUMENT, 1.30 to 4.30 P. M.

Found a Cure for Indigestion

"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different medicines. I am nearly fifty-one years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to now," writes George W. Emery, Rock Mills, Ala. These tablets contain no poison but strengthen the stomach and enable it to digest the food naturally.

QUALITY SALE —OF—

Holstein Friesian CATTLE

Under auspices of Delaware Holstein Friesian Association, and The Delaware County Farm Bureaus.

35 HEAD 35

Cows, Heifers and Young Bulls

selected from 60 entries from the Best Herds in Delaware.

Every Animal from a FEDERAL ACCREDITED HERD or from a herd passing at least ONE CLEAN TEST under FEDERAL SUPERVISION.

SALE UNDER COVER AT HOTEL STABLE

In MIDDLETOWN, DEL.

Tuesday, March 14

AT 1 O'CLOCK P. M.

Consignments include a daughter of King of the Pontiacs; a daughter of Uneeda King Alcartra; a son of King of the Ormsby; 6 sons and 5 daughters of Sir Inka Prilly Segis Hamilton; 2 sons and 2 daughters of Tranquility Ormsby Calamo.

Terms—Cash

COL. GEORGE BAXTER, Auctioneer,

of Elmira, N. Y.

PAPERHANGING

AND

PAINTING

Prices Reasonable

Satisfaction Guaranteed

Lee Heller

ODESSA

DELAWARE

"FOR THE LANDS SAKE"

USE

GROUND

OYSTER SHELL

LIME

(Containing Ammonia)

BUY NOW

Manufacturers

The Oyster Shell Products Co.

Philadelphia, Pa.

RAW FUR

bought

Highest Prices Paid

for all kinds of hides

SHIP DIRECT

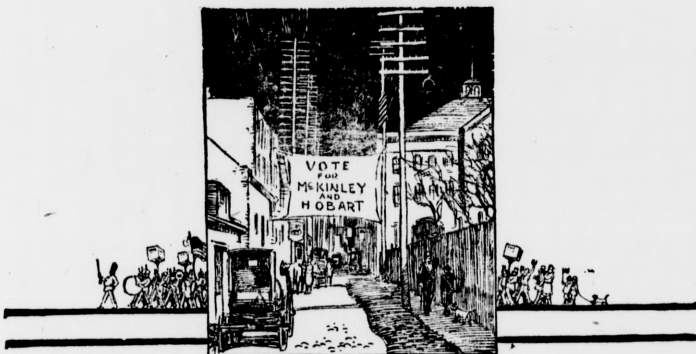

Parisian Fur Shop

49 N. 9th St.

Philadelphia, Pa.

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ laden mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its re-appearing in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.

The Telephone Pole is a fruitful tree.

On its angular branches are bright crystal apples, and the wires they bear aloft are the pathways of the world's conversation. They tell of the birth of a baby across the street or of the death of a monarch half way around the world.

The stately trunks of cedar and chestnut stretch from farm and town and suburb to the larger cities where the burden of wires is too great for poles, and the lines are underground.

To carry all of the telephone wires of a great city overhead would be out of the question. To put all wires underground in the less densely populated places would be just as impracticable, for it would make the cost of the service prohibitive.

Ideal telephone service should give to every subscriber, whether in city, town or country, quick communication to near or distant points in the most economical manner.

It is such an ideal that the men and women of the Bell Telephone System have constantly in view. Something new—whether it be developed in Sacramento or Kalamazoo—is immediately available to every other town in the Bell System where it may be introduced to advantage.

THE DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE CO.

E. P. BARDO

District Manager

BY THE WAYSIDE

By MARGARET A. SWEENEY

© 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

I was spending a few days in the valley of the Naugatuck, jaunting about the highways and the byways in a flivver, with only a dog and a camera for company. One morning, on a lonely bit of road that rims the river, I came upon an old garden—a garden run to weed, where a few roses of an earlier day still struggled for their share of the sun. At the entrance to a grass-grown path that led to an old house, there stood two ancient ash trees.

I sat down upon the wide stone doorway, and it, too, was covered with wild, green things—creeping tendrils from a fallen vine that lay twisted on the ground like a huge brown snake.

In the tall, waving grass I saw the tip of my dog's white tail moving stiffly. He was stalking some wild creature. I sat very silent.

"Who built this house and who made this garden, and why are they allowed to run to ruin?" These and other questions drifted into my mind as I sat there under the indefinable spell of this old place.

Suddenly my meditations were interrupted by the yelping of my dog. He was fiercely disputing the right of a tall, white-haired man to enter the garden. As quickly as I could I made my way through the weeds and brambles again. The dog, his sense of duty satisfied, wagged a welcome. The old gentleman (he looked like a country doctor) cupped his hand behind his ear and shouted: "Are you one of the Randals—the New York Randals?" "No, I'm not," I shouted back. "Is this their place?"

"Yes, this is the old Randal house. I was driving past and I saw you sitting in the doorway and I thought that—that you might be one of Miss Abby Randal's relatives from New York."

And then, with the loquacity of the aged, he told me this:

"Abby Randal, a very beautiful woman, the last mistress of the old place, was born there about 40 years ago. When she was a girl of nineteen or twenty she was engaged to a young man named Nelson—Peter Nelson of Naugatuck. Nelson was fond of horses and he rode a fine saddle horse. It was his custom to ride out from Naugatuck to the old Randal place every evening.

"One evening, the eve of his wedding day, his horse came dashing into the Randal yard riderless and covered with foam. Abby, sensing that something had happened to her lover, hastily saddled her own horse and started out toward Naugatuck; about half way she found Nelson lying in the road, cut and bleeding, but conscious.

"Help was summoned and the injured man was carried to Miss Randal's home.

"Throughout the night Abby Randal never left his side, and the next morning, at the request of the dying man, she became his wife. At nightfall she was a widow.

"The girl-widow, dry-eyed and silent, shut herself in her room—she wanted to be alone.

"In the morning the girl lay crumpled upon the floor, sleeping as peacefully as a little child. Kindly hands helped her into bed, and all day the girl lay in profound sleep. And when, toward evening, she awoke, she seemed to have lost all memory of what had befallen her. She complained of a headache, and of having had a frightful dream—that was all.

"In a few days she was busy about her accustomed tasks, not exactly the same as of old, but doing things in a dreamy, automatic way. She never spoke of Nelson, and her family and friends avoided mention of his name. She seemed happiest when working alone among the flowers in the garden.

"Five years went by, her mother died and Abby Randal lived on in the old place with only an aged servant for company.

"Nelson had been dead about ten years when one morning Abby Randal's memory came back—part of it came back.

"She had come down to breakfast, and when old Mary brought in the coffee Miss Randal said: 'I'm going away today, Mary. My husband, Mr. Nelson, came back. He was here this morning, and he is coming again this evening. But you may live here, Mary, as long as you like.'

"In her old heart Mary rejoiced, for the doctors had said that, eventually, Miss Randal's memory would come back, and now there was a glimmer of it.

"Just before supper Mary saw her mistress gathering roses—white roses from the bush near the birdhouse. When supper was ready the old servant went to the door, but Miss Randal was not in the garden; then the old woman walked down the path and here under the ash trees—the one at the left as you go out—lay Abby Randal, just as she had fallen, the white roses in her hand.

"She had gone out to meet Nelson."

Crowd Prague University.

More than 21,000 students are now in the Prague university and Polytechnic high school, studying law, medicine, electrical engineering, chemistry, commercial science, architecture, agriculture, philosophy, literature and history. Many of them are from Jugoslavia and Bulgaria, while a large percentage are refugees from Russia, who have chosen Prague because the universities of their own country are either closed or lack personnel.

WOMEN ARE DIFFERENT

Women of India are the most illiterate.

Women of Buenos Aires are the best dressed women in the world.

Women of Bolivia are superior to the men in energy and intelligence.

Women of Turkey wear more clothing than those of any other country.

FRENCH AND GERMAN BRIDES SING DEFIANCE

Colonel in Charge of Transport With U. S. Soldiers Says It's a Hard Life.

Six hundred and two soldiers of the army of occupation arrived at New York recently on the army transport Cantigny, which docked at Pier 2, army base, South Brooklyn. Of this number 75 had contracted wives. There were 12 French brides, 63 German brides and 38 babies. The French women and German women hated each other on sight. It was an interesting voyage, and it is remarkable that no one was hurt.

The entire trip was just one patriotic song after another. As soon as the French women found they were to be associated with Germans they started to sing the "Marseillaise," just to see what the effect would be and to show how they felt about it. The result was a burst of "Die Wacht am Rhein." There and then Col. G. I. Cress, troop commander, began to devote himself to the maintenance of peace.

So the voyage resolved itself into a song fight. Every time a French bride and a German bride met there was sure to be singing of a patriotic sort. They would cast mean looks at each other for a time and then, as an outlet for their boiling emotions, would come a couple of national anthems.

The tumult was especially concerted at meal times, when "The Star-Spangled Banner" would be thrown in for good luck, and half a dozen American nurses with Irish proclivities would chime in thereafter with "Ireland must be free." Then the 38 babies would begin to cry, and 36 fathers would begin to sweat.

The baby chorus was all German. The wailers were big, fat youngsters with red cheeks and powerful lungs. The French brides did not have even a single baby.

According to the soldiers, the attitude of the brides is typical of the French and German nations. They said that Germany harbored no animosity toward England and America, but that she still hated France, and France returned the sentiment.

FIRST GOTHAM POLICEWOMAN TO MAKE TRAFFIC ARREST

Lieut. Eva Mitchell, of the women's police reserve of New York, is the first policewoman of the metropolis to make a traffic arrest since the reserve went on duty the other day. The driver, Lieutenant Mitchell, arrested for a violation of the traffic laws, was fined in court.

HUMAN HAIR IN CARGO

There is Great Scarcity of This Article in Demand in the U. S.

An item in the cargo of the Hakata Maru which arrived at Seattle recently was 40 bales of human hair. There is a great scarcity of this article and a demand for it in the manufacture of hair nets. The United States annually imports hair to the value of more than $500,000.

Human hair 25 to 35 inches long and packed in bales of 133 pounds is worth $210 in Hongkong and twice as much in this land.

It is said there are immense stores of this article held in China, as it accumulated four or five years ago following the edict regarding the abolition of the queue. Many of the long braids of black strong hair were laid away as relics, but the bulk of the clippings found their way into the hands of jobbers, who are now marketing it in this country.

Rector Bans Short Skirts at Weddings

Rev. W. C. Robertson of Christ Episcopal church at Chattanooga, Tenn., has issued rules defining the length of skirts, and hints that any one violating the rules will not be permitted to take part in a church wedding ceremony. He asserts that no dress called technically an "evening dress" will be allowed.

Skirts must not be higher than where the spring of the calf of the leg begins, sleeves must not be shorter than above the elbow, and hats must be worn.

Force of Habit. Mrs. Smart—Now, listen here, John, will not stand your staying out so late.

Mr. Smart—Really, my dear, you are unreasonable. You know very well I required the habit while courting you. —London Answers.

RACE SUICIDE TO KILL OFF RATS

British Zoo Director Says Present Methods Are Wrong.

WOULD KILL ONLY FEMALES

Then the Males Will Fight Each Other and Eventually Destroy the Breed—Four Males and Six Females, Given Sufficient Food, Will Increase to 170,000 Males and 120,000 Males Within Two Years—Proven by Denmark's Experience.

Great Britain's strenuous efforts, during the National Rat week just closed, to destroy the rodents said to have been responsible for the destruction of $140,000,000 worth of food last year, are pronounced by an English scientist to be completely and exactly wrong.

According to this authority, the ministry of health in encouraging the wholesale and indiscriminate slaughter of rats in the British Isles is merely improving living conditions for the survivors, whose progeny in less than a year will be as populous as before. There is only one way to rid the world of rats, says this man, and that is to appeal to biological laws, to upset the numerical proportions, between the sexes and then leave the males to destroy their own race.

This advocate of sexual selection in place of rat poison is Director George Jenson of the Manchester Zoological Gardens, who, in a recent appeal to the sanitary authorities of England, says:

Can't Kill Them All.

"When one realizes the enormous fecundity of rats—a fecundity so great that four males and six females, given sufficient food, will increase to 170,000 females and 120,000 males within two years—it becomes apparent that hit-or-miss methods will never work. You can't kill them all by human efforts and if you let a single pair escape you will have presently the same swarms as before.

"These rat crusades are all wrong. As everybody knows, the male rat is the bolder, the one who roves abroad recklessly, and he is the one who is caught in these indiscriminate attacks. This decrease in the males means more food and more quiet for the females who, undisturbed, breed prolifically and soon restore the number.

"Denmark's experience proves this completely. Denmark began in 1907 the policy of the indiscriminate killing of rats. She had a most elaborate and efficient system. In 1907 she killed 134,000 rats, the vast majority of whom were males. But eight years later, with the system still in force, she killed 139,000 rats! She had made no headway whatever. To be sure, she killed only 98,000 last year, but that decrease—as she admits herself—is due to the food famine conditions prevailing there during the war.

"The only scientific course is to turn your back resolutely on this indiscriminate slaughter and deliberately upset the balance of the sexes. Rat poison should be forbidden. Likewise shooting rats, or catching them in spring traps that kill them. The thing to do is to catch them alive in traps or trap rooms, examine them, destroy the females and turn the males loose.

Destroy the Race.

"That may sound like a fantastic suggestion, but every experienced English game keeper follows exactly the same procedure when he wants to increase or decrease game on a preserve. Ordinarily there are, as we know, two male rats to every three females. If you disturb this balance, so that there are two males to every female, you destroy the race, first by setting the males against each other and secondly by forcing them to harem the does in the breeding season.

"We have been following this method now for some years in the Zoological Gardens. In 1915, when we began, we caught, on an average, 35 rats a month. By destroying the females and releasing the males, we have now cut the population down visibly; we now catch only about 18 rats a month.

"America has afforded biologists a striking example, all unintentionally, of the success of this method. I refer to the total destruction of the passenger pigeon in America. At one time the flocks numbered hundreds of thousands, but hunters, setting themselves to catch the female while on her nest in the breeding season, upset the balance and in a few decades completely destroyed the species.

"Rodier of Melbourne, Australia, is trying to persuade the people of that continent to follow this method in attacking the rabbit pest, which, in spite of all efforts, is growing worse each year. Every new settler increases the food supply and multiplies the number of rabbits. The waste in money is $100,000,000 a year and increasing yearly. The rabbits are poisoned and trapped and shot in such huge numbers that blowflies infest the air in certain seasons. But it is hopeless. The Australians can make no headway until they enlist sexual selection on their side, kill all the females, release the males and set the latter to destroy the breed.

England's crusade against rats dates from the passage of the rat act of 1918, which makes a householder who "harbors" rats or mice liable to a fine of $50.

Mean Trick.

Johnnie and Jimmie could not agree with the little Browns next door, but they were fond of the Browns' dog, Buster, so much so that they invited him to their show because Buster could do tricks.

The show started and was well along when Johnnie and Jimmie rushed in to their mother, and with many tears and lamentations wailed out:

"We had our show goin' so good, and Buster was doin' one of his best tricks, when them mean Brown kids called him home and busted up the whole show."

SPRING SPORT SUITS AND BRIDESMAIDS' MILLINERY

THE makers of sports clothes are having their tunings, for their products were never in so great demand. One need not be at all athletic to be properly attired in sports suits and to benefit by their lively charm; it is enough to look on at sports and dress to suit environment.

Flannel has been added to the list of materials for summer sports clothes, giving the designers a fine medium for skirts and suits. Styles point to stripes, either narrow or broad, and to herring patterns, both often in combination with plain cloths. Color combinations are very fine, but black and white are smartest of all.

much latitude allowed the bride in choosing it, that the maids are equally concerned. Each one hopes that the choice will be a happy one for her; suited to her style and at least a little flattering to her face.

Youth carries off the most picturesque in millinery and the shops are full of new and enchanting hats. Shapes are graceful, colors lovely so that the bride and her maids may go confidently in quest of headwear, bearing in mind that there is no such word as "fail." Designers have foreseen this

A Sport Suit of Flannel.

Four beautiful models, sure of making a triumph in the bridal cortege, are shown in the group below. For a formal wedding, nothing lovelier can be imagined than the fine wide-brimmed, half-brim hat at the top of the group, with its narrow, supporting under-brim of georgette and its soft, ostrich feather wreath straying over the brim edge. It is an adorable hat in any of the fashionable light colors.

If the bride would have the flavor of quaintness in her maids' millinery, she might choose the leghorn hat at the left, with an insert of colored lace in its brim. It has a wide sash of moire ribbon about the crown with very excursion and "their hats are in the ring."

At present, there is a great vogue for sport garments of homespun and tweed. These materials fashion the most attractive suits in alluring colors, periwinkle, apple blossom, vermillion and adobe. Undoubtedly these suits will make a strong appeal to the business woman next spring, as they possess excellent wearing qualities and are reasonable in price. Garments of knit fabrics are also most popular, little straightline dresses, capes which fall in graceful folds, sweaters and three-piece suits.

Flowing sleeves continue to be worn but are now often attached to the wrist by the use of ribbons, or of jeweled bracelets, or bands of jet or onyx. In fact, jewelry is worn to a marked degree just at present; necklaces, earrings, bracelets and fancy girdles, all adding a barbaric note of richness to many an otherwise undecorated costume. The fan, too, continues to occupy a prominent place in hats and white shoes bring this faultless toilette to completeness.

Millinery for Easter Brides.

The sports dress with matching cape is a rival of the sports suit and equally successful. A handsome model is shown made of gray kasha cloth, striped with red. The dress is straight and plain with a girdle of red boules set at a very low waistline.

Prospective Easter brides are deeply concerned just now with the all-important matter of their bridesmaids' millinery and there is so long ends that slip through the brim and a branch showing foliage and young buds of the rose falling over the brim at the back.

But if her fancy leans toward something that reflects the fashions of the hour she may select a smaller hat of straw braid, like that at the right.

Julia Bottomley

COPYRIGHT BY WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION.

To Measure Button Hole Spaces. A good system for measuring buttonholes or hooks and eyes in making buttonholes or sewing on hooks and eyes—is to cut a strip of paper the length of the space where the fastenings are to go. Then keep folding the paper evenly together, creasing firmly each time, until you have folded it to the required space between the button and loops. Then with the scissors cut a small hole entirely through each end of the folded paper. Straighten out the paper, pin smoothly to the garment and mark through each hole with colored crayon or pencil.

A New Skirt Model for Golfers. An idea for the golfer is a sport skirt of a light wool material, developed with a wide overlapping panel in front. Three glass buttons at the waist form the only fastening for this skirt which gives the player freedom from a confining narrowness. A single pocket is placed opposite the buttons below the waist. The shops show these skirts in carmine and dark brown.

JET IN HEADDRESS

Pearls Also Used to Add to Decorations for the Hair.

Bracelet Encircles Arm at Wrist and Above Elbow, Connected by String of Beads.

Jet used singly or combined with pearls makes up some of the most striking combs and headdresses, either seen in the shops or worn by smart Parisiennes, observes a fashion writer. A jet comb noticed recently was set with two rows of pearls, the upper row two sizes larger than the lower. The touch of chic, however, lay in the fact that the comb reached almost from ear to ear, giving a wonderful effect against the dark red hair on which it was worn.

A headdress made entirely from jet consists of a narrow band worn low on the forehead and having three circular ornaments overlapping each other at the front. At either side are jet rings which are as large as bracelets and which give the effect of mammoth earrings. Accompanying this headdress is a pair of jet bracelets, one encircling the arm at the wrist and the other above the elbow, and both connected by a string of jet beads. The prematurely white-haired woman who wears these affected a one-piece dress of white velvet, the slight gathers across the front held in at either side with a jet ornament.

A new bracelet made large enough to wear just below the shoulder is of pearls strung on silver and has a fringe of pearl beads which falls over the arm. This fringe is sometimes of uniform length and at other times has pointed scallops. This fringe idea is carried out in bracelets of pearls combined with onyx, thus making a much more striking and really smarter bracelet than the pearls alone.

THE STRIKING WHITE SERGE

This winsome costume of white serge is trimmed with black and white braid and black wool fringe. The ever ready cape which reaches almost to the hem of the skirt is popular at Southern resorts. The white hat completes the outfit.

SPORT TOGS; OTHER APPAREL

Vogue for Homespun and Tweed Material; Spring Hosiery, Shoes and Gloves.

Looking back in retrospect to a year ago one realizes that skirts after all are much longer, though whether they will attain the ankle length of those worn by our Parisian sisters remains to be seen. With these long skirts come the large flat-trimmed hats.

In the new spring hosiery, colors continue to rival black, and light tones such as gray, beige, sand and taupe are favored. It is expected that these delicate shades will be worn with black as well as with matching shoes. The white stockings also will be to the fore if the vogue for the light-colored cotton dress materializes, and they are shown in fancy weaves as well as with colored stripes.

The light shades in gloves, both kid and suede, are also preferred to black—French gray, sand, mode and even white being offered for street wear. These spring gloves will be long, the gauntlet and the 12 and 10-button length being the choice.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF

Closely fitting hats of felt and beaver are popular for sport wear.

The bateau necklines and other shallow décolletés are preferred to the extremes just now.

Short capes have stole collars of fur, and are edged with narrow black silk fringe.

An uneven line at the hem may be very attractively developed by a sash tied so that one end hangs well below the skirt hem proper.

The new handbags for spring must be flat and thin and ornamented with onyx, karacaste or jewels, whether they be of silks, moires, velvets, faille or satin.

Clusters of chenille dots on the light veils will take one of the leading ranks among the veils in the spring. In the cluster effects there will be several contrasting colors.

A novelty apron that has been especially featured at a smart New York shop is made of suede cut in stripes that are studded with steel beads, forming a pattern. This novelty is being shown as the successor to

SUIT FOR BUSINESS WOMAN

This diagonal tweed suit of gray promises to win favor with the business woman who has no time for frills. A becoming hat of wool and straw with colored embroidery adds a touch of refinement.

AFTERNOON GOWNS OF CREPE

Embroidered in Matching Silk; Design Recalls That Used for Spanish Shawls.

Afternoon gowns are frequently of crepe; almost entirely embroidered in matching silk, in a design which recalls that used for Spanish shawls. A delightful combination shown consists of a cape of black crepe marocain, with a great square let into the back, of embroidered putty-colored crepe, while the gown is of the lighter crepe, entirely embroidered. Many of these gowns have long, tight sleeves, but the great square chignon sleeve still persists.

Models which might be worn for formal afternoon occasions, or for informal evening affairs, sometimes have the entire bodice made of a finely patterned silk lace, rather bloused at the waist, and cut with long, tight sleeves, while the skirt is of matching crepe de chine, often entirely embroidered. Mauve and periwinkle blue are two colors favored for these gowns.

Hats of Felt.

Hats of felt, bound with a cre ribbon and pressed into ridges or folds around the top of the crown, are particularly smart. They come in all shades of tan and brown and in black and dark blue. There are two ways of trimming them. One is to use ostrich and one is to use a cocarde, bow or band of ribbon. The ribbon, of course, preserves the tailored effect of the hat. The ostrich makes it into a more elaborate hat for afternoon dress wear.

Raggy Hem Line.

Some of the new frocks show skirts that are longer on one side than on the other, some are long back and front and short at sides, while more, perhaps, are long at the sides, with shorter back and front widths, and not a few, even of the separate skirts, are arranged in draped panels so that a "ragged" hem line is in evidence.

the affections of the debutante as well as in the matron's, and even the flat nosegay often accompanies frocks which simulate the quaint modes of the Thirties.

Looking back in retrospect to a year ago one realizes that skirts after all are much longer, though whether they will attain the ankle length of those worn by our Parisian sisters remains to be seen. With these long skirts come the large flat-trimmed hats.

In the new spring hosiery, colors continue to rival black, and light tones such as gray, beige, sand and taupe are favored. It is expected that these delicate shades will be worn with black as well as with matching shoes. The white stockings also will be to the fore if the vogue for the light-colored cotton dress materializes, and they are shown in fancy weaves as well as with colored stripes.

The light shades in gloves, both kid and suede, are also preferred to black—French gray, sand, mode and even white being offered for street wear. These spring gloves will be long, the gauntlet and the 12 and 10-button length being the choice.

silk fringe, which has been so extensively used as dress trimming.

It is not generally known, but very well worth remembering, that the shine can be easily and quickly removed from the shoulders and elbows with one's gloves by a gentle friction with emery paper. Don't rub too hard, just enough to raise a little nap, and then, in the case of cashmere and other smooth goods, go over the place a few times with a warmed silk handkerchief.

An Economy in Shoes.

When planning the out-of-door wardrobe, a carefully thought-out color scheme is just as necessary as it is in planning costumes for any other occasion. Shoes, stockings, hats and gloves must be considered in relation to the several costumes which they must accompany. All-white shoes are a far safer investment than those with colored trimmings, unless one is certain that the color employed will harmonize with the hues of all the costumes that they are to be worn with during the season.—Vogue

The Kitchen Cabinet

Copyright, 1912, Western Newspaper Union.

"Silently one by one in the infinite meadows of heaven, blossomed the stars, the forget-me-not of the angels."

CANNING, PRESERVING MEATS

In many homes, not only in the country but in many small towns, it is an economy to preserve meat, if even in small quantities.

In corning beef, meat from fat animals makes a choicer meat than from those lacking in fat. Meat should be corned as soon as possible after the meat has chilled, but under no circumstances let it freeze. Weigh the meat and allow eight pounds of salt for 100 pounds of meat. Sprinkle a layer of salt one-quarter of an inch in depth in the bottom of the barrel, pack the cuts of meat as closely as possible, making a layer six inches thick, then put a layer of salt and repeat until all the meat is packed, reserving enough of the salt to make a good layer over the top.

After standing over night add four pounds of sugar to each 100 pounds of meat, two ounces of baking soda and four ounces of saltpetre, dissolved in a gallon or tepid water. Add three gallons more of water to cover the meat. Place a board with a weight of iron to keep the meat under the brine. Rusty meat is caused from allowing the meat to become exposed to the air.

If the brine becomes ropy, it will have to be poured off and a new brine added; this will sometimes occur in warm weather.

Canning Chicken.—Dress and cut up the chicken or leave whole if preferred. Cover with boiling water and simmer until tender. Remove the bones and cover them with the chicken broth; cook until reduced to one-half. Pack the meat closely in jars, add one teaspoonful of salt to each quart and fill up the jar with the broth, adjust the rubber and top but do not seal tight—the rule is to screw the top down tight then unscrew half-way round; this allows an equal pressure inside and out of the can and its contents will not boil out. Cover with boiling water and sterilize in a boiler or canner for three and a half to four hours. Seal at once when removing the jars and invert out of a draft. Can the broth in the same way; this may be removed in one and one-half hours.

"We scheme, we toil, we pray, In wretched plight For what—three meals a day, One sleep at night."

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

Mutton is a wholesome meat which should be served more frequently. It moves all bits of skin and there will be no woolly taste.

Haricot of Mutton.—Fry two tablespoonfuls of onions in two tablespoonfuls of drippings, add one and one-half pounds of lean mutton cut in two-inch pieces, salt and pepper well and cover with boiling water. Cook slowly until the meat is tender. Serve with buttered lima beans. Green peas may be used.

Jellied Apples.—Pare, core and slice one quart of apples. Butter a baking dish and put in a layer of apples, covering each layer with sugar until a cupful is used. Add one-half cupful of hot water, cover and bake in a slow oven three hours. Soften one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water and dissolve in one-quarter of a cupful of boiling water. Mix carefully through the hot apples, turn into a mold and serve with or without cream.

Spanish Toast.—Cut up two green peppers, a slice of onion, two sprigs of parsley and add a cupful of thick tomato sauce. Simmer the mixture until it is smooth. Toast rounds of bread, butter and put a spoonful of the tomato mixture on each round of toast with a poached egg on top.

Fish Balls.—Make a white sauce using one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful of flour, salt and pepper to taste, one-half cupful of milk and two well-beaten eggs. Cook until smooth, then stir in one cupful of flaked fish. Drop this batter by spoonfuls into hot fat. Drain on brown paper and serve at once.

Fried Hominy and Ham.—As a substitute for the ever present potato, try this dish. Put one tablespoonful of ham fat in a frying pan, add well cooked hominy and stir until well mixed with the hot fat; add one-half cupful of minced ham, a tablespoonful of minced parsley. Those who like onion will enjoy a tablespoonful of minced onion added to the hot fat and well cooked before adding the hominy.

Apricot Salad.—On a bed of shredded lettuce arrange a layer of sliced bananas. Over this place the halves of two canned apricots. Top with whipped cream to which a teaspoonful of highly seasoned salad dressing has been added.

Part of Time's Heritage. Somewhat Shelley's line in "Adonais" about one whose name was written in water comes to mind while reading the announcement that a fossil brownstone slab bearing the imprint of raindrops has been presented to the geological museum of Trinity college. This was a rainstorm that occurred thousands and thousands of years ago, and yet the marks of it are still to be seen. Like the luscious, ever-vital personality of John Keats, these raindrops have become part of the heritage of Time.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Courtship. "Then she refused to smile upon you?" "Yes, she gave me the laugh."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Youngstown, Ohio.—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, 'Surely it must be doing you good all right.' I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."—Mrs. ELMER HEASLEY, 141 S. Jackson St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"I was very nervous and run-down," writes Mrs. L. E. Wiese of 706 Louise St., New Orleans, La. "I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the very first bottle I took and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH RENNOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

Benefited by First Bottle "I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in our paper 'The Indiana Daily Times,' and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH RENNOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

Benefited by First Bottle "I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in our paper 'The Indiana Daily Times,' and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH RENNOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

HAVE YOU THESE SYMPTOMS?

If So, Commence Taking Gude's Pepto-Mangan and Get Back to Good Health

Lack of vitality, a feeling of tiredness, bad breath, pale lips, colorless cheeks, loss of weight, flabby flesh, lessened strength—all of these call for the immediate use of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will positively produce satisfactory results. Try taking it with your meals for a few weeks and be surprised with the improvement in your condition. Gude's Pepto-Mangan will help you back to strength during convalescence from any illness. It has been prescribed successfully by physicians everywhere for thirty years. It is a recognized iron tonic of honest merit. For sale in liquid and tablet form by all druggists. Ask for it by the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan."—Advertisement.

TOO MUCH FOR GRANDMOTHER

Mathematical Problem, Old Lady Decided, Was Something That "No Fellow Could Understand."

The little girl at the elementary school had been promoted to multiplication and for her home work was set the task of finding out how many legs 400 normal horses possess. A bit puzzled as to how to work it out, in the evening, as she sat with her exercise book in front of her, she called in the services of her grandmother.

"Let's see," said grandma, adjusting her spectacles, "one horse'll have four legs, two eight, three twelve, four sixteen, five twenty—" and then she broke off. "How many horses did you say?" she asked.

"Four hundred, granny," replied the little girl.

"E-e, child," said the old lady, shutting up the book, "there isn't one living could do that sum."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

Truth of the Situation. "I hear," said Margaret, "that Elsie finished her education abroad."

"No," corrected Susan, "she didn't finish it until she married Harry Hedges and had to live on $1,000 a year."

"How was that?" "It was not until then that she learnt that money was needed to buy something else besides feminine finery, chocolates, theater tickets, phonograph records and taxi fares."

Important to Mothers. Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, that famous old remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson.

In Use for Over 30 Years. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

The Courtship. "Then she refused to smile upon you?" "Yes, she gave me the laugh."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

NERVOUS AND HALF-SICK WOMEN

These Letters Recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Will Interest You

For Your Own Good Please Read Them

Youngstown, Ohio.—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, 'Surely it must be doing you good all right.' I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."—Mrs. ELMER HEASLEY, 141 S. Jackson St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"I was very nervous and run-down," writes Mrs. L. E. Wiese of 706 Louise St., New Orleans, La. "I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the very first bottle I took and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH RENNOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

Benefited by First Bottle "I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in our paper 'The Indiana Daily Times,' and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH RENNOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts.

Lloyd Products
Baby Carriages & Furniture
Ask Your Local Dealer
Write Now for 32-Page Illustrated Booklet
The Lloyd Manufacturing Company (Haywood-Walshfield Co.)
Dept.
Menominee, Michigan (16)

FLORIDA
BY SEA BALTIMORE TO
JACKSONVILLE
Fare
One Way $30.95 Round Trip $55.75
Meals and Stateroom Accommodations on Steamer Included. Extra charges for promenade deck rooms.
Steamer Every Tuesday and Friday. Make Reservations Early.
Merchants & Miners Trans. Co.
Pier 3—Pratt St. Tel. St. Paul-4300

Liggett & Myers
KING PIN
PLUG TOBACCO
Known as
"that good kind"
Try it—and you will know why

DON'T BE LATE AGAIN! Last year we returned hundred agents applications. Factory enlarged. Production doubled. Next Sample case. Hurry! Habanx Leather Co., Toledo, O.

Practice. "Does your daughter practice her music regularly?" "Yes, just as regularly as I remember to remind her that she must do it."

The art of living consists in not being a dead one.

Excuses are seldom of moment.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

BELLANS
6 BELLANS Hot water Sure Relief
25¢ and 75¢ Packages, Everywhere

Garfield Tea

Was Your Grandmother's Remedy

For every stomach and intestinal ill. This good old-fashioned herb home remedy for constipation, stomach ills and other derangements of the system so prevalent these days is in even greater favor as a family medicine than in your grandmother's day.

When You Need a Good Tonic Take BABE

THE QUICK AND SURE CURE FOR Malaria, Chills, Fever and Grippe. CONTAINS NO QUININE. All druggists, or by parcel post, prepared from Kloczewski & Co., Washington, D.C.

Ladies Let Cuticura Keep Your Skin Fresh and Young

Soap 25c, Ointment 25 and 50c, Talcum 25c.

POSTPONED! The Large Cattle Sale

of Jehu Alfree, advertised to take place at his residence, near Townsend, Delaware, on Wednesday, March 15th, has been postponed until

Monday, March 27th

The heavy rain storm of Wednesday made it necessary to postpone this sale.

JEHU ALFREE,
Townsend, Delaware.
Geo. W. BAXTER, Auctioneer.
Dinner will be served on Farm.

The Mutual Loan Association

MIDDLETOWN, DELAWARE

The Stated Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Mutual Loan Association of Middletown, Delaware, will be held at the Office of Daniel W. Stevens, South Broad Street, in Middletown, Delaware, Tuesday, March 21 A. D. 1922, at seven o'clock P. M., at which time a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer will be elected to serve one year, and three directors will be elected to serve three years. The Stockholders will also vote upon the recommendation of the Board of Directors, to amend the Character of the Corporation, raising its authorized capital stock to five thousand shares.

D. W. STEVENS, Sec'y

New Pool Room

I wish to inform the public that I will open an up-to-date Pool Room, on the second floor of the American Stores Building, on North Broad Street. Full line of Cigars and Cigarettes.

Call and inspect my new quarters.
WILLIAM E. ROBINSON,
Middletown, Del.

One Thousand Dollars And 65 Other Prizes for naming the Michelin Tire Man.
A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR EVERYBODY

COME IN AND LET US TELL YOU ALL ABOUT IT.

We will give you an envelope containing the simple rules governing this contest, together with helpful suggestions and also a contest card which you may use in submitting names.

H. D. HOWELL
Middletown, Delaware

PAPERHANGER!

Paperhanger and Decorator. Reasonable rates. Satisfaction guaranteed.
HENRY HELLER,
Odessa, Del.

DELCO-LIGHT

"Electricity for every Farm"

ECONOMICAL IN OPERATION

Delco-Light costs no more to operate than the old coal oil lamps. One gallon of coal oil gives you four times as much light when used for fuel in Delco-Light as it gives in coal oil lamps.

Write for Catalog

William T. Ennis

DEALER

ODESSA DELAWARE

Saving Yields Three Blessings

"Cleanliness is next to godliness," said Wesley. True enough in his ruder day, but in ours we should say, "THRIFT is next to godliness."

Savings Accounts with THE PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK bring three benefits: 1st increased income, for "a penny saved is a penny earned;" 2d, for the young, two benefits a good interest compounded, and best of all, the great habit of SAVING inculcated.

Saving increases income Teaches The Young

4% on Savings Accounts Compounded Semi-annually 4%

Classified Column

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Underwood Typewriter. Good order. Down to date, $60.00. B. G. SMITH, Middletown, Del.

FOR SALE—150 yds. Lineoleum for setting. $1.00 sq. yd. Extra thick. B. G. SMITH, Middletown, Del.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red Eggs for setting. $1.00 per 15; $5.00 per 100. R. R. FOURACRE, Middletown, Del.

FOR SALE—Monarch Beaver No. 8 range with warming closet, almost new. R. M. MOORE, Middletown, Delaware.

FOR SALE—Barred Rock Eggs for setting, 5 cents each, from pure-bred stock. ALFRED HELLER, near Ginn's Corner, Townsend, Del.

FOR SALE—Posts for wire fence, also a few bored posts for rail fence, at MELVIN NAYLOR's, Townsend, Del. C. E. POOL, McDonough, Del.

FOR SALE—Buick Roadster, in good condition, has good cord tires and one extra cord tire. Will be sold reasonable. Apply to TRANSCRIPT OFFICE.

FOR SALE—Buildings, Equipment and Land of Kemp-Thomas Pkg. Co., at Fort Penn, Del. Inspect and address S. V. KEMP, 226 8th St., S. E. Washington, D. C.

A BUS BARGAIN—One-ton Nash, equipped with complete bus body; in service only six weeks; can be bought at a low price, cash or time payments. Other new Nash trucks and one used Selden truck at attractive prices. WILMINGTON NASH MOTORS CO., Eleventh and West streets, Wilmington, Del. Phone 7445.

REAL ESTATE

If you are looking for a House or Farm. Call to see JOHN HELDMYER, JR., Real Estate Broker, Main street, Middletown, Del.

NOTICE—I wish to inform the public that I will prosecute any person or persons who are found guilty of harboring my son Ellis Gonce, who is a minor. WILLIAM GONCE, Townsend, Delaware.

WANTED

WANTED—Man with car to sell the BEST Ford Oil Gauge made. $100.00 per week and extra commissions. ACCESSORIES CO.,—Graham, Benton Harbor, Mich.

PAPERHANGING

AND

PAINTING

Prices Reasonable

Satisfaction Guaranteed

Lee Heller

ODESSA

DELAWARE

RAW FUR

bought Highest Prices Paid

for all kinds of hides

SHIP DIRECT

Parisian Fur Shop

49 N. 9th St. Philadelphia, Pa

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ laden mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.

Excellent Remedy for Constipation

It would be hard to find a better remedy for constipation than Chamberlain's Tablets. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. Give them a trial when you have need.

RE-OPENING

Having thoroughly remodeled my

Meat, Provision and Green Grocery Market

in Townsend, Delaware

I will re-open in my old stand

Saturday, Mar. 18th

with a fresh line of everything usually found in an up-to-date Meat and Provision Market.

My elaborate improvements will enable me to carry a larger line of goods and serve my patrons promptly.

I have added to my line a large stock of Men's Shirts, Overalls, and other Notions, which you will find to be of the best quality and at reasonable prices.

I invite my patrons to call and inspect our improvements and learn our new prices. Thanking all for past patronage and assuring you that I will endeavor to serve you well in the future, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Arthur B. Johnson.

Phone No. 7111

IN AGRICULTURE

This Spring of All Times

Every Dollar Spent for Lime Must Buy the Best

USE

CHARLES WARNER COMPANY'S
"CEDAR HOLLOW" OR "MCCOY" LIME PRODUCTS

"LIMOID"

PURE HYDRATED LIME IN BAGS

50 lb. Bag for LAND, 10 lb. Bag for GARDENS, WHITEWASH, ETC.

"RUN-OF-KILN" LIME (in bulk)

PULVERIZED (finely ground) LIMESTONE
IN BAGS AND IN BULK

"Investigation before Investment"

ASK YOUR DEALER

W. F. & J. R. CLEMENTS

Clayton, Del.

G. M. D. HART & SON

Townsend, Del.

W. W. PRICE

Smyrna, Del.

SHALLCROSS BROS.

Middletown, Del.

An Announcement!

I desire to announce to the good housewives of Middletown and the surrounding community that I have purchased the Grocery and Provision business of Mr. M. Banning, where I will endeavor to keep at all times a choice line of Staple Groceries,

Vegetables, Salt Meats

and everything usually found in a first-class grocery store.

Urie J. Clark

East Main Street,

Middletown, Del.

Phone 105R11

A. FOGEL'S Spring Millinery Opening

Tuesday and Wednesday

MARCH 21st and 22d

YOU are cordially invited to attend the Spring Opening of Wearing Apparel, Flower-trimmed and Sport Hats. The very newest ideas of New York creators are depicted in these fashionable hats. It is our most inspiring collection in years. So many new materials, new shades, new trimmings—hats that will delight the eye of the most fastidious.

New styles for the chic young women, plenty of the extreme that youth affects so joyously—also a good showing of hats for the matron.

All our hats are to be specially low priced during Opening.

We have just received a large and choice assortment of new Muslin Underwear for ladies. These goods were bought from a dealer needing cash badly and we are passing our purchase discount on to our customers by giving them the finest grade of Muslin at a very low figure. Come at once and be one of the many among our customers taking advantage of this lucky buy.

FOGEL'S Dept. Store

MIDDLETOWN, DEL AWARE

Nash Leads the World in Motor Car Value

EACH year has seen the Nash name and Nash car quietly but steadily extending its circle of friends and well-wishers until they stretch from one end of the country to the other.

Each year has seen the belief that Nash Leads the World in Motor Car Value spreading further and further, until it represents, now, not a local preference but a national conviction that is expressing itself unmistakably in the growing annual volume of Nash sales, now exceeded by but seven other companies.

FOURS and SIXES

Prices range from $965 to $2390, f. o. b. factory

NASH

Del-Mar-Va Nash Motors Co.

Easton, Maryland

H. V. BUCKSON

St. Georges, Del.

(139)

SHERIFF'S SALE—BY VIRTUE OF a writ of Lev. Fac. to me directed, will be exposed to Public Sale on the premises of the defendant, Stanley Krajewski, also known as Eleventh Ward Ice and Coal Company, No. 301 Fifth Avenue (Fifth Avenue and Coleman street), in the City of Wilmington, New Castle County and State of Delaware.

ON TUESDAY, THE 28TH DAY OF MARCH, 1922, at 11 o'clock, A. M., the following described Personal Property, viz:

ALL that certain ice plant, formerly located in the city of Camden, New Jersey, together with the boilers and power plant, sold, to the said party of the first part, by the said party of the second part and by the said party of the first part removed from the city of Camden aforesaid to the said city of Wilmington, and erected upon the real estate owned by the said party of the first part, et al., and situate in the said city of Wilmington at Fifth Avenue and Coleman street, said goods and chattels now remaining and continuing in the possession of the said party of the first part at said city of Wilmington, in Wilmington Hundred, in the County of New Castle and State of Delaware.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Stanley Krajewski, and to be sold by JOSEPH H. GOULD, Sheriff, Sheriff's Office, Wilmington, Del., March 10, 1922.

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Red Eggs for setting. $1.00 per 15; $5.00 per 100. R. R. Fouracre, Middletown, Del.

DELAWARE TRUST COMPANY

WILMINGTON

MIDDLETOWN

DOVER

GEORGETOWN

LEWES

ST. GEORGES

SEAFORD

LAUREL

MILLSBORO

MILTON

FREDERICA

WORRY

has killed more men than over-work and always will. You have accumulated property and you work for more.

Let the Delaware Trust Company, under a Living Trust Agreement, assume the burden of management and handle your property under your direction.

Our facilities for this service are complete and you are assured the maximum return from your property.

CHAS. M. CURTIS
Trust Officer.